

Worried about leaving Dad alone?

Sometimes adults living at home need a safer, secure daytime environment due to illness, injury or age.

Schuyler Ridge Adult Day Health Care offers a variety of stimulating and enriching programs as well as health care services, tailored to meet the unique needs of each individual. Programs include recreational and social activities that foster companionship, independence and well-being.

Schuyler Ridge Adult Day Health Care provides caregivers the opportunity to fulfill work and personal obligations, or just have some time off from the demands of caregiving.
