The Luminous Mysteries

This set of meditative mysteries was recently introduced by Pope John Paul II, some 900 years after having had the previous three sets of mysteries. They concentrate more on the events of Christ’s public life, beginning with Jesus’ Baptism in the Jordan. In fact, that event was the beginning of Jesus public life, his introduction given by the voice of His own Father along with the descent of the Holy Spirit.

We know from the Gospels that Mary was an active participant at the event of the next mystery, Jesus’ self-manifestation at the Wedding Feast at Cana. The first among believers, Mary, intervenes on behalf of her Son, the result being a very public act displaying a mystery greater than most present would comprehend.

In the mystery dealing with The Proclamation of the Kingdom of God we have an array of images, Jesus calling all to conversion, the forgiveness of sins, thus, one might say, the initiation of the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

The Transfiguration exhibits to the group of those gathered a sort of reinforcement of faith, with the Father commanding them to listen to His Son! Finally, a command from Jesus - “do this in memory of Me” – the final Luminous Mystery, The Institution of the Eucharist. The mystery of that event, the presence of Christ in the bread and wine, having become His Body and Blood, is a mystery contemplated and celebrated and proclaimed at each Mass. Its significance is in its essence, our salvation in its existence.

The Marian thread through these mysteries rests in the words of Christ’s Mother, herself: “Do whatever He tells you!” Her words echo those of God the Father, they mirror the direction of the Spirit, they prepare the foundation for the actions of her Son.

As we near the season of Lent, consider the Rosary as a companion during each of the forty days and, especially, during the final days of Holy Week. Try to see Christ through the eyes of His Mother. Try to feel her pain, her joy, her silence, her obedience, all in response to God’s invitation through the Angel: Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with Thee!

WHAT THE MONKS TAUGHT THE FRIAR

Last week was a time of grace and peace for me as the Benedictine Monks of Conception Abbey in Missouri welcomed me for a week of retreat. What a marvelous opportunity to disconnect from the frenzy of daily life and to reconnect with the deeper spiritual impulses calling out ever since the awful events of last December 7. I sincerely feel that the friar who returned to St. Stan's last week is a better man than the one who left the week before!

Conception Abbey is no stranger to violence and shock. Last June 10, a 71 year old man walked into the monastery armed with two powerful rifles and began shooting monks at random. Two monks were killed in the monastery hallway: Fr. Philip Schuster, OSB (84 years old) and Br. Damian Larson, OSB (62 years old). Two other monks were critically wounded: Fr. Kenneth Reichert, OSB and Fr. Norbert Schappler, OSB. The gunman, Mr. Lloyd Jeffress, took his own life in a pew at the back of the Abbey Basilica, leaving carnage and questions behind.

A few days after violence came upon us at St. Stan's, Br. Frowin from Conception Abbey sent a compassionate email promising a prayerful solidarity between the monks and our parish community. This was part of the amazing cloud of prayer that kept us all lifted close to the loving heart of God, who knew our sorrow even more deeply than we ourselves could have grasped.

The monks also extended an invitation, saying that they too know what it means to suffer violence from within. The week of quiet, prayer, and rest was truly a balm for this tired and wounded soul. And the gentle faithfulness of the monks, who shared their journeys through pain, healing, and forgiveness, was a steady witness to the power of grace which prevails in spite of every darkness.

I want to share two insights that were offered by Fr. Kenneth, the prior and one of the wounded monks who was my retreat guide. I had told him that the two toughest things for me to deal with are anger and the difficult path to forgiveness.

First, when Fr. Kenneth was asked if he has forgiven the one who violated the peace and life of the monastery, he said that he forgives a little bit each day. But we should not expect forgiveness to come all at once, like a big flash. Instead, it comes in small measures each day we seek it. Yet forgiveness does not mean forgetting. He and the monastery will never be the same — and neither will we at St. Stan's be the same.

Second, he remarked how so many people showered him and the other monks with love beyond telling. He knows that they cannot let their anger — as real as it is — overpower the love that continues to be revealed to them. We do not confront evil directly, he said, but we overpower it with good.

In spite of the tremendous violence that has come upon us at St. Stan's, there is an even greater measure of grace-filled goodness that continues to pour forth from the hearts of our parishioners and friends. May the great season of Lent open our hearts to the love that surrounds us, that we may know a measure of healing and peace from the compassionate heart of God..

Fr. Michael

NOWE PRAWO POSTU

Ani spostrzeżliśmy się a już upłynął karnawał (w tym roku wyjątkowo długi) i za najbliższym zakretem czasu widać Środę Popielcową a wraz z nią Wielki Post. Nieprzypadkowo więc tematem liturgii ostatniej niedzieli przed tym okresem jest post.

W Starym Testamencie post traktowano jako umartwienie, czasami bardzo ostre i surowe. W nowotestamentalnym nauczaniu Jezusa zagadnienie postów pojawia się w połączeniu z jałmużną i modlitwą.

Teolog Leon Dufour pisze: "Pościć - to znaczy "uniżyć swoją duszę", czyli przyjmować postawę zależności względem Boga. Człowiek pości więc po to, by przygotować się na spotkanie z Bogiem, by dać wyraz swemu ubolewaniu, by wyprosić sobie jakieś doborodziejstwo, przebaczenie kolektywne lub indywidualne, światłość Bożą, zwłaszcza przed podjęciem jakiejś misji".

W świetle powyższego tekstu łatwiej jest zrozumieć posty Żydów, a tym bardziej post Jana Chrzciciela czy samego Chrystusa na pustyni.

Kapłani żydowscy pościli dwa razy w tygodniu - w poniedziałki i czwartki. Czasami te formy pokutne były bardzo restrykcyjne i uciążliwe. Na przykład praktyki postne Żydów zakładały powstrzymanie się od kąpieli, co w tamtejszym klimacie było ogromnie dokuczliwe, zarówno dla poszczącego jak i dla otoczenia. Tamten post zakładał także wstrzemięźliwość seksualną. W wymiarze pozytywnym oznaczał okazywanie szczególnej miłości ubogim. Motywy postu były zawsze natury religijnej, choć często ulegały deformacji, a bywało, że zamieniały się w teatralną ostentację.

W nauczaniu i praktyce Jezusa można wyróżnić post fizyczny i post duchowy, choć występują też nierozłącznie. Chrystus nie potępia pierwszego, ale główny akcent kładzie na rolę i znaczenie postu duchowego; trzeba od razu dodać, że trudniejszego do określenia i praktykowania.

W tym właśnie kierunku rozwijał się konflikt w dzisiejszej Ewangelii pomiędzy uczniami Jana i faryzeuszów a Jezusem i apostołami. Jezus dość jasno wytłumaczył swój punkt widzenia, uciekając się nawet do przypowieści i porównań. Chciał w ten sposób przekonać swoich słuchaczy, że należy mocno przewietrzyć pojęcie postu i poszukać jego najgłębszego sensu; koniecznym jest odejście od skostniałych przepisów, które stały się sztuką dla sztuki.

W kościele chrześcijańskim post był od samego początku praktyką znaną i uznawaną. Symbolizował postawę oczekiwania na ponowne przyjście Pana.

Post jest szczególnie skuteczny i ważny wtedy, gdy płynie z potrzeby skruszonego i oddanego Bogu serca. Poprzez post to serce musi przejść całkowitą przemianę. Pościć, według Jezusa, to stale się przemieniać, ulepszać swoje serce i w konsekwencji życie.

Nie ulega wątpliwości, że współcześnie pojęcie postu rozmywa się. Był okres (chyba nawet dalej trwa), że bardziej podkreślano zdrowotny charakter postu, niż jego wymiar religijny.

Post nie może być celem samym w sobie. Jest środkiem do celu. Celem jest miłość Boga i uświęcenie człowieka. Na pewno postem nie jest zastępowanie schabowego lososiem.

Jądro chrześcijańskiego wezwania do świętości stanowi postawa i praktyka bazująca na takich pojęciach, jak: rezygnacja, wyzucie, uwolnienie, wyrzeczenie czy umartwienie ze względu na To jest nowe-stare Jezusowe prawo postu.

PRAKTYKI WIELKOPOSTNE

Już w tym tygodniu rozpoczyna się Wielki Post, czas na pogłębioną refleksję nad sensem naszej wiary i naszego życia. Jest to również czas wzmożonych praktyk religijnych. Jak poprzednimi laty, w tym okresie będziemy mieli okazję uczestniczyć zarówno w nabożeństwie Gorzkich Żali jak i Drogi Krzyżowej. To typowo polskie nabożeństwo, jakim są Gorzkie Żale, będziemy śpiewać dwa razy w tygodniu: w każdą niedzielę o godz. 3:00 po południu i w każdą środę o godz. 5:30 wieczorem. Zaś Drogę Krzyżową w języku polskim będziemy rozważali w każdy piątek o godz. 5:00 wieczorem. Zaś na początku kwietnia, już w końcowym okresie Wielkiego Postu, będziemy mieli okazję uczestniczyć w polskich rekolekcjach wielkopostnych, które poprowadzi kanclerz diecezji Zamojsko-Lubaczowskiej z zamościa ks. dr Adam Firosz. Ale najpierw przed nami Środa Popielcowa. W ten dzień Mszę św. w języku polskim, z posypaniem głów popiołem, będziemy celebrować o godz. 5:00 wieczorem.
