WELCOME

St. Stanislaus is reaching out in service to our diverse neighborhood peoples. Please be generous in your support of the many good works of our Parish. St. Stanislaus depends upon the regular support of its membership and the generosity of those who visit here. Please look upon your financial gift or sacrifice as a way of giving praise to God along with the many from earlier generations who have worshiped and prayed here for 130 years.

Silence II

I realize we've been through a lot. For hundreds of years we celebrated Mass in Latin. At some point in time our celebration evolved into one that separated the people worshipping together into two groups, those who were participants and those who were spectators. The participants included the priest, altar boys and choir; everybody else just watched and prayed silently.

It wasn't always like that. Before there were Latin Masses, liturgical celebrations were held in numerous languages, languages spoken by the believers who met together to listen to the Word of God in the Holy Scriptures in their native tongue followed by a sharing of the Eucharistic meal, again in that tongue.

Centuries after Jesus had died on Calvary and rose from the dead, the church leaders decided the time to unify and control the celebration was here. Latin, after all, had become the Mediterranean and European language of commerce and trade, the language of the privileged and the educated. It remained that. The mysteries of faith that were part of the Latin texts in prayers and liturgical services were translated into stone, wood, stained glass and colored drawings ('paint'). Most people in the world couldn't read, whether in Latin or any language for that matter. If they were to join in prayer it would be learned by rote, by repetition. Since most people couldn't even read, prayer books were pretty much useless. Thus, formal prayer and song was left primarily to be executed by the clergy.

Since the invention of the printing press in the 15th century and the advances toward the reduction of illiteracy in the 20th century we now have a majority of worshipers within our church who are 'capable' of participating in any one of our numerous liturgies in a way our ancestors (as recently as the last century) never had imagined. The capability is real, but so are a number of other forces which inhibit the potential to allow that capability to grow into something more active, less passive. There is no single reason why our congregation sings or doesn't sing or says certain prayers but mumbles others. But it is something we think about, study and will continue to address.

FAT TUESDAY

This week is the beginning of Lent, and Tuesday is the last day of Mardi Gras, often referred to as "Fat Tuesday." It's the day when people party like crazy and carry out all the decadence they will deprive themselves of for the next forty days. Even the traditional Polish dessert, packi, originally started when people emptied their cabinets of the sugar, lard, and sweet preserves and whipped them up into treats that would be forbidden for the next weeks.

But for those of us who are a bit "weight-challenged," the word "fat" hits the ears pretty hard. As I approach Lent coming up, I have to admit that, over the last several months, I have indeed gotten fat. This time, it's not just a middle-age spread, but the kind where I look at photos of myself and ask, "Who is that graying chubby guy?" and realize, it's me.

I need Fat Tuesday like I need a hole in the head. But I really need Lent. Really.

Lent is the perfect time to do a serious personal reflection and make a commitment to spiritual renewal. It can start with shedding a few pounds, work its way through some more time in prayer, and bear fruit in greater charity toward those in need.

Lent is the time to do less of what we shouldn't be doing, and more of what we should be.

The three traditional forms of Lenten observance are prayer, fasting, and almsgiving. Each one of these disciplines is meant to reform our lives, to reshape ourselves as we stand before God and each other. Even if that reshaping means we look a bit leaner.

We live in a culture of contrast between excess and want. We eat too much, but we don't pray enough. We are generous with those who will be generous back, but stingy with those who need our help, even though they might not ever express thanks. We pray when we have to, if we're lucky, but seldom when it's just an option. Lent is the time to do less of what we shouldn't be doing, and more of what we should be.

Just as an athlete needs to train hard in order to play at his or her best, so also do we Christians sometimes need to ratchet up our training regiment in order to be better at our lives in Christ. Except that our faith lives are much, much more important. The skills of even the best athletes will eventually fade, and they look back at their youthfulness as the prime of their lives. But in faith, we hope that the best is yet to come! We look forward, not backward.

At Saint Stanislaus Church, we have many opportunities for spiritual renewal. More times for prayer are organized around Sunday Vespers and gorzke zale, plus Stations of the Cross and daily Morning Prayer. There will be the annual faith sharing group for adults, which meets every Friday at 7:30 PM in the convectory. The paper "Rice Bowls" are available for families to save some change and donate to the poor. The days of fasting and abstinence are in place as in every year.

But in the end, as the saying goes, you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. Unless you promise him a donut afterward...

SZTUKA ŻYCIA

Ludzie nie umieją żyć! Stwierdzają to lekarze i pisarze, dziennikarze i socjologowie; podpisują się pod tym także osoby duchowne. Potwierdzają tę tezę zarówno starsi jak i młodzi. Ludzie nie umieją żyć, bo skracają sobie życie niewłaściwym odżywianiem, piciem, paleniem, narkotyzowaniem się, smutkiem, nerwami, chorobliwą zazdrością, zaborczością, nienawiścią...

Jak, coraz mocniej zwielokrotniane echo, brzmi pytanie: Jak żyć, by zaznać trochę szczęścia, zasmakować zadowolenia? Wiele osób i grup proponuje różne recepty i drogi. Ludzie szukają wzorów, przykładów, bohaterów, których mogliby naśladować. Sztuka życia jest w niezwykłej cenie. I nie chodzi tu, bynajmniej, tylko o życie chrześcijańskie, ale o zwykłe, normalne, ludzkie życie na codzień. Ogromnym paradoksem jest, że człowiek dokonał tylu odkryć, coraz bardziej ujarzmił naturę, rozwinął możliwości swojego umysłu, a w przyswajaniu sobie reguł sztuki życia jakby się cofnął... Czyżby więc nie istniał jakiś zbiór zasad, jakieś reguły, które pomagałyby w tej sztuce?

To nieprawda, że ich nie ma! Problem w tym, że człowiek nie tylko nie chce ich przyjąć, ale broni się nawet przed próbą zastosowania ich. Te zasady, to Chrystusowe Kazanie na Górze.

Błogosławieństwa, które słyszeliśmy w ubiegłą niedzielę, to program i cel sztuki życia, to zbiór najlepszych i niezawodnych reguł pozwalających zasmakować szczęścia już tu, na ziemi. W odczytywaniu i rozumieniu można i trzeba pójść dalej i odkryć środek prowadzący do celu, który zawiera dzisiejsza Ewangelia: Jak chcecie, żeby ludzie wam czynili, podobnie wy im czyńcie. Polskie przysłowie wyraża to w słowach: "nie czyn drugiemu tego, co tobie niemiłe".

Najwięcej kłopotów sprawia nam życie i współżycie z innymi. Uwolnić się od tego nie możemy i nie powinniśmy próbować tego robić. Jesteśmy istotami społecznymi, zależnymi od siebie, "skazanymi na życie i współżycie z bliźnimi". Problemu współżycia z ludźmi nie da się rozwiązać przy pomocy ludzkiego wyrachowania ani ziemskiej kalkulacji.

"Szczęście, to dziwny artykuł: im więcej się go daje, tym więcej się go posiada" - mawiał wielki fizyk, Ampere. Zaś austriacki psychiatra, Viktor Frankl, niezwykle trafnie dzieli ludzkość na dwie grupy. Jedna wciąż pyta: Co jeszcze życie może mi zaoferować? A druga pyta: Czego życie oczekuje jeszcze ode mnie? Pierwsi chcą tylko brać i są nieszczęśliwi, drudzy zaś chcą jak najwięcej dawać z siebie i czują się szczęśliwi.

Sztuka uszczęśliwiania siebie mieści w sztuce uszczęśliwiania drugich, mieści się w zasadzie miłości bliźniego. Im więcej dajemy z siebie - tym więcej otrzymujemy. Im lepsi jesteśmy wobec innych, tym sami stajemy się lepsi. I to jest najlepsza i najpewniejsza reguła sztuki życia, reguła, która niezawodnie prowadzi do odkrycia drogi życia dającej zadowolenie i poczucie spełnienia się już tutaj, na ziemi. Choć trzeba przyznać, że reguła, mimo swej prostoty, niełatwo dająca się wcielić w życie. Kto jednak jej nie spróbuje, całe życie będzie poszukiwał na oślep, mijał się i walczył z wszystkimi i wszystkim. Wyśitek w służbie innym prowadzi nie tylko do pełni człowieczeństwa, ale daje zadowolenie, poczucie spełnienia się. Jest sztuką życia.

LENTEN RETREATS AT ST. STANISLAUS

For the ladies of our Parish, The theme for the Woman's retreat is "Renew Your Spirit." Presented by the Community Life Commission it will be held on Saturday February 28, beginning with Mass in our church at 7:45 AM. Breakfast will be served in the school all purpose room at 8:30 AM followed by reflections and testimonials by selected speakers until noon. To reserve a place you may call the Parish Office at 341-9091. There is no charge for the Retreat, however a free will offering to cover some of the expense would be greatly appreciated.

The men of the parish will have an opportunity to deepen their faith and renew their relationship with Jesus by participating in the Men's Retreat on Saturday March 13. The theme for the night will be "Demands and Distractions — Where is God in Our Stressful Life?" The evening will begin with the 5:00 PM Vigil Mass in our church followed by a delicious supper. A presentation on the evening theme will be followed by Christian fellowship. Please call the Parish Office to register.

These two events are an excellent way to prepare for the mystery of our faith that unfolds during Lent and culminates in the Resurrection of our Lord at Easter. We urge you to allow time in your busy schedule for the nourishment of your soul.

LITTLE BLACK BOOKS ARE AVAILABLE

Again, we are offering the popular devotion found in "The Little Black Book" based on the Passion from the weekday Gospel reading of this years cycle. These are all new devotions, convenient to carry and travels easily in your pocket, purse or glove compartment. The goal is to find six minutes of quiet time every day for the 50 days of Lent. You can use this book anywhere (there is no title on the cover, so no one has to know you are praying). Remember, only six minutes a day. That doesn't sound difficult for anybody, but it will pay big rewards. The books will be available before and after Masses in the vestibule and the price is still only $1.00. Be sure to pick one up! You will be happy you did!
