DONATIONS FOR RECTORY FUND

Several parishioners have asked how to offer their donation or pledge for the rectory fund. At each entrance of the church, there are brochures that describe the project and have a form you can fill out. You may use that form or simply use any envelope, mark "Rectory Fund" on it, and enclose your check or pledge. Drop your envelope in the weekly collection basket or mail it to the church office.

Jesus, Jesus live in me

I am the bread of life, the true bread sent from the Father.

In the silence of your heart, what do you hear when the cantor sings these words during our Eucharistic hymn? We have just invited Jesus to live in us. What does that mean? That invitation is like coming right out to the world and 'asking for it.' Do you really want Jesus to live in you? Really? Are you aware of the consequences? It could mean loneliness, the feeling of abandonment. It could mean joy and contentment.

The Way, the Truth and the Life is not easily embraced. Yet we move on in our procession to the altar to partake of the very food which will never leave us at rest in a world that cries for our attention, for more bread, for the Bread of Life.

This bread is the Body of Christ. This is the bread that He shared with his apostles – that group of followers that hardly came to his help when he was carrying the cross just a few hours afterward. That bread was no panacea for the fear they experienced. Those who were the closest to Jesus, who were at His last supper, were so weak in faith when the really difficult times arrived.

But the Jesus who went through the agony, the passion, the carrying of the cross and the crucifixion was not merely a human speaking on behalf of God. The amount of scourging mattered not nearly as much as the fact that it happened at all. The same holds for the rest of the passion. God's Son showed what great love the Father had for humankind by enduring the horrible, humiliating process of crucifixion. The resurrection had to happen. The two cannot be separated. Because of both, the death and the resurrection, that bread lives! We invite the crucified Jesus into ourselves just as we invite the resurrected Jesus. We eat the suffering Jesus and we eat the glorified Jesus, sharing in His suffering and in His glory. We invite the force that can change the world right into our lives. It's not an act to be taken lightly. That's the risk we take when we partake in the Bread of Life.

COME DOWN FROM THE MOUNTAINTOP

Much is being made these days about the new film by Mel Gibson, "The Passion of the Christ." How fortunate we are that, whatever one thinks of the film, and regardless of whether one has actually even seen it, folks are talking about Jesus. In an age when people are hesitant to share their faith, the film gives us an opening to talk with one another without worrying about whether we sound out of place.

Having seen the movie myself, I can at least say that it is quite intense. The viewer is drawn from being a mere spectator to a near participant. Yet, as we walk with Jesus during his last twelve hours, we do so with the knowledge of how the story ends. We know in faith that there is glory at the end of the road to crucifixion, even though that glory seems so very, very distant at the time. Even still, we have the advantage of knowing. The disciples did not.

Each Lent we are invited to walk with the disciples up the mountain, where we will witness with them the Transfiguration of Jesus. As we know, whenever a Bible story takes place on a mountain, we should take that as a clue that there will be an counter with God coming up. True to biblical form, Jesus takes a few chosen followers up a mountain, and they have an encounter with the glory of Christ in all his dazzling brilliance. It is a foreshadowing of the glory to come, a memory imprinted in their minds so that, when the real test of faith comes later, they will have something to look back on and say to themselves, "Remember when?" Jesus gives them a brief glimpse into the glorified future, so that they will have strength when they need it later on.

This is the mountaintop, where we only come to visit, but we cannot stay until the Kingdom comes.

They are so impressed that they want to remain on the mountaintop, build a shrine there, and have lots of folks come to it. But Jesus sends them back. It is not realistic to stay on the mountain — you have to go back home. Life on the mountaintop is unsustainable. The air is too thin, too cold. Life is meant to be lived in the valley. The glimpse of glory on the mountaintop is meant to be only fleeting, momentary, and intense.

Many times, people who take their spiritual lives seriously wonder why they do not feel a constant joy and sense of being uplifted. They may have a feeling of being very, very close to Jesus at some point in their lives, and they want that emotional feeling to last. But it can't. The intensity of being immediately in the presence of God in Christ would overwhelm us. Instead, this is what is waiting for us in heaven. But along the way, the Lord gives us little glimpses, brief and fleeting moments, when we all but gasp in wonder at God who is so very present, and whose presence seems to flee just as soon as it comes upon us.

This is normal. This is the mountaintop, where we only come to visit, but we cannot stay until the Kingdom comes. May this season of Lent give us a glimpse so that we can hold on for the journey.

PRZEMIANA

Druza niedziela Wielkiego Postu nazywana bywa często niedzielą przemienienia. Chrystus przemienia się na górze Tabor, ukazując zdumionym apostołom, Piotrowi, Janowi i Jakubowi chwałę, do udziału, w której przeznaczeni i zaproszeni są wszyscy ludzie. Ukazanie tej chwały, to obraz ludzkiego wyniesienia na wieki. Ale to Jezusowe przemienienie, to ważna i ciągle aktualna wskazówka w życiu ziemskim dla każdego człowieka. Każdy bowiem potrzebuje przemiany swojego życia, potrzebuje stawania się lepszym.

Chyba nikt z nas, ludzi, nie jest wolny od większych czy mniejszych kryzysów, każdy też doświadcza przemian w swoim życiu. Dobrze, jeżeli kryzys wzmacnia, oczyszcza, dodaje siły i powoduje pozytywną przemianę człowieka. O wiele gorzej, gdy kryzys przytłacza, załamuje i ogromnie obciąża.

Kryzys jest zawsze indywidualnym wyzwaniem, które należy podjąć. Wielu ludzi jednak boi się kryzysu i dlatego za wszelką cenę próbuje przed nim uciec. Uciekając przed nim, człowiek ucieka przed samym sobą; a dokąd może uciec przed samym sobą? Dlatego z trudnościami trzeba spróbować się zaprzyjaźnić lub choćby "ulożyć się". Najgorzej jeżeli człowiek stara się zmienić wszystko i wszystkich dokoła, a nie chce zajrzeć do swego wnętrza.

Gdy dosięga nas kryzys, poszukujemy pomocy w przyjacielu, bliźnim. Bywa jednak, że to zawodzi. Szkoda, iż nie zawsze chcemy pamiętać, że niezawodnym wsparciem jest Chrystus. On może pomóc najlepiej, najefektywniej wspomóc przemianę ku lepszemu życiu. Podstawowym jednak warunkiem w tej drodze jest zaufanie Chrystusowi i wiara w siebie. Nieprzypadkowo Św. Paweł woła na kartach Pisma św. "wszystko mogę w tym, który mnie umacnia". Nie ma bowiem rzeczy niemożliwych dla człowieka głęboko wierzącego. W każdym z nas drzemią ogromne możliwości do działania w kierunku dobra; należy tylko uwierzyć w siebie, wydobyć tę potencję i właściwie wykorzystać. Ważne jest także, aby mieć przed oczyma swój cel, ideał. Ludzie bez ideału często się załamują, stają się "karłami".

Na drodze przewycięzania kryzysów, na drodze przemiany naszego życia winniśmy zawsze uswiadamiać sobie jeszcze jedną bardzo ważną kwestię, a mianowicie to, że w chwili przewycięzania kryzysu robimy milowy krok ku dojrzałości.

Chrystus w swoim nauczaniu nieustannie wzywa człowieka do pracy nad sobą. Poprzez ukazanie rąbka swojej chwały na górze Tabor, poprzez tę Jego przemianę, zachęca nas, abyśmy "nie ustali w drodze", bo naszym przeznaczeniem jest udział w Jego chwale. Ale to nie stanie się automatycznie, nie przyjdzie samo. Potrzebny jest wysiłek człowieka, konieczna jest praca nad sobą, nad własnym charakterem. W żadnej dziedzinie nie ma doskonałości bez praktyki, bez ćwiczeń, także, a może przede wszystkim, w dziedzinie duchowej.

Ćwicząc się w dobrym - unikajmy grzechów;
Miłując bliźnich - miłujmy Boga;
Idąc przez życie - zbliżajmy się do góry Tabor;
Zmieniając się wewnętrznie - upodabniajmy się do Chrystusa, czego życzy na Wielki Post

ks. Jerzy

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED BECOMING A SECULAR FRANCISCAN?

During the life of St. Francis of Assisi (1182-1226), many men and women were intrigued by the example that the Poverello (little poor man) from Umbria gave. He radically wanted to follow Jesus Christ according to the Gospels and gave up everything — all his possessions and his inheritance, even his family name! — to identify as completely as possible with Jesus Christ.

Bl. Bonaventure of Quintavalle, Bl. Leo of Assisi and Bl. Giles of Assisi were among the first men to follow him and become known as “Lesser Brothers” (friars minor) in 1209 (the First Order). St. Clare of Assisi and her blood sister, St. Agnes of Assisi, likewise radically followed Francis’ example and became known as the “Poor Ladies” of Assisi (popularly called the Poor Clare nuns — the Second Order).

However, many lay people wanted to follow St. Francis’ example, but did not discern a call to the religious or monastic life. These became known as the “Third Order” Franciscans. Over the centuries communities of Third Order Franciscans would form and become themselves religious. Others would remain lay people — young and old, men and women, married, single and widowed. After the Second Vatican Council (1963-1965), the lay Franciscans reviewed their call in the light of the council’s emphasis on baptism, and by 1980 called themselves Secular Franciscans.

St. Stanislaus Parish had two sizeable communities (called “fraternities”) of Secular Franciscans over the years — Polish- and English-speaking. In more recent times these fraternities became less popular and so disappeared.

We are attempting to revive a lay, or secular, Franciscan presence among us here at our parish! If you would be interested in more information, and possibly becoming a member of the Franciscan family, please call Fr. Kim Studwell, OFM at the parish office: 216-341-9091 (if he is not available, please leave a message).

Prayerfully discern as to whether God may be calling you to become a member of the Franciscan family as a Secular Franciscan!

Debbie Ziss greets Norm N. Nite a special guest to the PFCDC fundraising Cocktail Party. Mr. Knight was instrumental in bringing the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame to Cleveland.

NEW PLAYGROUND FOR PRE-SCHOOL

If you were wondering what all the digging and activity was about —the HeadStart program is funding the construction of a children’s playground in the convectory garden area. The walled in area will give our toddlers a safe place to play.

REGISTRATION OF NEW PARISHIONERS

On the weekends of March 20-21 & March 27-28, 2004, the Parish Pastoral Council will be available to sign up new parishioners as members of the St. Stanislaus Parish family. If you know of anyone who wishes to be a part of our community, please bring them to Mass this weekend and introduce them to the Parish Council members who will be stationed in the vestibule before and after each Mass. During the week, you can register as a new parishioner at the convectory during regular business hours.

MEN’S LENTEN RETREAT AT ST. STANISLAUS

The men of the parish will have an opportunity to deepen their faith and renew their relationship with Jesus by participating in the Men’s Retreat on Saturday March 13. The theme for the night will be “Demands and Distractions — Where is God in Our Stressful Life?” The evening will begin with the 5:00 PM Vigil Mass in our church followed by a delicious supper. A presentation on the evening theme will be followed by Christian fellowship.

This is an excellent way to prepare for the mystery of our faith that unfolds during Lent and culminates in the Resurrection of our Lord at Easter. We urge you to allow time in your busy schedule for the nourishment of your soul. Please call the Parish Office to register.

BINGO CALLER NEEDED.

We will Train you! It can become addictive. Help us to continue to support our school. Without volunteers, we will not be able to provide needed revenue to keep our school solvent. Please call Frank Greczanik at 216-441-0552 or just come down to bingo to see what it is all about. Other positions are also available (full and part time).

ATTENTION WOMEN’S RETREAT ATTENDEES

We know that some coats look alike and that after the glow of a wonderful experience you may grab a coat that looks like yours and fits too. If you attended the woman’s retreat check to see if the coat you wore is the coat you came home with. We have a taupe coat with a Holy Spirit Medal that looks like a coat with a fabric purple cross pinned to it that someone is missing. If you have the wrong coat please call or come to the convectory and we will make the exchange.
