St. Stanislaus depends upon the regular support of its membership and the generosity of those who visit here. Please look upon your financial gift or sacrifice as a way of giving praise to God along with the many from earlier generations who have worshiped and prayed here for 130 years.

AMEN!

When Pope John Paul II “returned to the home of his father” on April 2 of this past year Catholics all round the world mourned the loss of a figure who, to many of us, took on the role of a true friend, a spiritual force, even a loving ‘grandpa’. We at St. Stanislaus particularly felt the loss as we had such a close association with the Holy Father through his visit, his gift of the relic of our patron saint, and the presentation of gifts to him over the years including the CDs produced at our Shrine. This Wednesday the combined choirs of St. Stanislaus produced yet one more musical recording in his memory, entitled “AMEN,” named so after his final word before his “returning to his Father.”

The recording (which will be available in October at our annual festival) contains the music which was performed at the 30 Day Memorial Mass on May 2, 2005. That occasion was one which combined both the sentiment of mourning with that of true thanksgiving. Polonia from throughout the Cleveland Diocese filled our Shrine that special evening to mourn the loss of their countryman and to thank God for allowing him to serve as our spiritual leader for such a long time. The various selections were chosen with great care and reflected a spectrum of aesthetic, cultural and spiritual values dear to John Paul II and to Poles all around the world.

During the summer months I will be composing the text for the recording jacket, a task whose goal will be to not only provide insight into the music and words chosen for this historic event but to allow the listener to join in prayer from beginning to end with every note, every word uttered by those praying with their gift of song and word. Each time you listen to this tape or CD you will be able to join in prayer to God for the soul of Pope John Paul II and, someday, for his intercession to our common Father.

The combined English and Polish choirs have spent many long hours to produce this prayer of beauty. May those that listen to the fruit of their labors join in their prayer and their praise of God in their own hearts.

DAD

It threw me off, fourteen years ago, when I got my first Fathers Day card. It was my first one after being ordained a priest, and I was just getting used to being called "Father," let alone getting a card with the word on it. Barely accustomed to thinking of myself as a priest already, suddenly this regular idea of fatherhood was applied to me as well.

This past Easter break, I had a chance to accompany two of our Lil Bros on a college visitation as one of them was looking at schools. As our college hopeful was registering for the campus tour at the desk, the secretary told him, "You and your dad and brother can either wait or be back in fifteen minutes." I know I'm not his dad (the real dad couldn't get away for the trip), but it sure felt strangely wonderful being called that. "Well," one of the guys said, "we do call you 'Father' a lot!" Maybe the secretary just thought the kids were being very formal...

One of the blessings of priesthood is the opportunity to explore an unique and marvelous sense of fatherhood. I am the father of none, and also the father of many. I wonder at the joy and simplicity of childhood, and I also like being able to send kids back to their parents when they get "that way!" I feel very protective of the kids at our school, for example, and when I drive through the neighborhood I am on the watch to make sure none of them is in trouble or running with the wrong crowd. I share in the pride of our school parents when their kids excel at something, and I hurt with them when their kids disappoint them.

I also feel very paternal toward the parish as a whole, and toward the neighborhood we live in. In whatever ways a father might feel protective toward his family, I feel that way toward our community. Having chosen a life without marriage and children, I have been blessed with the hundredfold promised in the Gospel. My life is filled with many wonderful people to love, and my heart is filled with the loving affection of countless others in turn.

Perhaps part of this large sense of fatherhood is also owed to my own father, whom I love deeply. His own sense of duty toward his family, his ready gift of playfulness, his generous spirit, and his gentle strength are images of fatherhood that I hope I am able to convey in my own life calling. I can think of no greater honor to give him than to be at least a small measure of the man he is.

As my Dad grows older, a bit slower, and more deliberate (sorry, Dad, to write this in public, but it's OK), he also grows more peaceful and solicitous to my Mom, whose heart he stole more than fifty years ago. They are a blessing to me — and through me, to others. May God bless all those men who have been fathers to us, in whatever ways they have shown that, whether they are still with us in this life or with the Lord in the next. And may they always know of our love for them, wherever they are.

Fr. Michael

„NIE BÓJCIE SIE”

Jezus, rozsyłając swoich uczniów do pracy misyjnej, dał im władzę nad duchami nieczystymi, ale szanując wolną wolę człowieka, nie wyeliminował w apostołach ludzkiego leku. Chrystus uczył swoich uczniów prawd wiary, ukazywał im wielką wartość ludzkiego życia, ale przede wszystkim uczył ich zaufania do Siebie, a przez to wytrwania w dobrym. W dzisiejszym fragmencie Ewangelii, jak echo, 3 razy zwraca się do apostołów: Nie bójcie się! To zawołanie bardzo przypomina wielokrotne wezwanie, którym posługiwał się Jan Paweł II od pierwszego wystąpienia: Nie lekajcie się!

Mistrz wiedział, że wysyłając uczniów z tym co słyszeli i widzieli będąc z Nim, narazi ich na nieprzychylną przyjąć przez ludzi. Przewidział, że spotka ich z tego powodu nienawiść, cierpienie i przesławanie. Oni sami będą żyli w pokusie zaparcia się Mistrza, zastraszenia, zmiany posłannictwa.

Czy dzisiaj sytuacja uległa zmianie? Nie za bardzo. Czy dzisiaj przesłanie ewangeliczne, które zawiera się chociażby w wezwaniu by nie krążyć, nie oszukiwać, nie żyć rozpustnie, nie żyć w nieprzyjazni itd., jest w pełni zachowywane? Poprzez to sam Bóg jest odrzucany, wybiórczo traktowane są Jego przykazania i okazjonalnie przyjmowane sakramenty. Co więcej, my sami przez lek, by nie być wysmianymi, uznani za dewotów, by nie wyróżniać się od innych w imię tzw. tolerancji, kapitulujemy, dajemy się zastraszyć. Jakże często wielu z nas, czasami z błahych powodów, zapiera się Pana, zarówno słowem jak i postępowaniem. Nie wolno nam zapomnieć, że jeśli gdziekolwiek i przed kimkolwiek wstydzimy się swoich chrześcijańskich przekonań, to nie tylko zaparlismy się Chrystusa, ale straciliśmy szacunek do samych siebie. W żadnym wypadku, a tym bardziej jako ludzie wierzący, nie możemy mieć dwóch twarzy, dwóch serc, podwójnego życia. W niejednej głowie rodzi się pewnie pytanie: Czy moja jednostkowa wiara ma jeszcze sens?

A jednak; to właśnie do nas - ludzi naszych czasów - pogubionych w wierze i zniechęconych, Chrystus dziś woła: Nie bójcie się!

Gdyby cała sprawa naszej wiary i rozszerzania jej polegała tylko i wyłącznie na naszej sile, to rzeczywiście moglibyśmy się niepokoić. Pozostaje nam jednak mocne oparcie na nauce i żywej, konkretnej obecności Jezusa. W dzisiejszym fragmencie Ewangelii Jezus nawołuje, na różny sposób, byśmy zaufali do końca Jemu. Trzeba nam nieustannie śmiać się dobro, którego doświadczaliśmy w czystym Bożym Źródle i nieustannie ufając, że tak jak w nas ono dokonało wiele dobra, tak to samo dobro rozszerzy swoje przestrzenie i rozleje się, jak fala, na innych. Trzeba nam mieć nadzieję, nawet jeśli wydaje nam się, że tyle sytuacji jest nam przeciwnych; a może właśnie dlatego!

Powinniśmy być ludźmi wielkiej cierpliwości, gdyż w nas i wokół nas „dotknięcie Boga” musi czasami obumrzeć, nabraci mocy; musi czasami przejść przez ciemne strony ludzkiego życia. Bóg sam zadba o rozwój rozsianego dobra. Nie pozwoli, by się zmarnował Jego dar. Nam pozostaje wierność i ufność, że to nastąpi. Musimy pogodzić się, że to nie zawsze odбудzie się według naszego projektu, na naszych oczach. Jednego możemy być pewni: On nigdy nie zostawi nas samymi. ks. Jerzy
