The ‘Not So Twin’ Towers

Last week I told you about the legend concerning the trumpeter who warned the citizens of Kraków of the approaching Mongol hordes. This week I’ll tell you a little about the towers of the basilica of St. Mary’s (kościół Mariacki) where the tradition of the trumpet hejnał continues to this day.

The building itself was probably destroyed during the Tartar raid of 1241, but after the final invasion of the same group in 1287 the building was built up again, possibly utilizing some walls from its ruins. Earlier in the same century the town had been endowed by Boleslaus the Chaste with a municipal charter (1257) based on Magdeburg law. The basic layout of the city was thus established at that time and much construction took place during the second half of that century. (More on this in a subsequent article) The Church dedicated to the Assumption of the Holy Virgin Mary was to become an important part of the new town, a position it retains to this day.

A peculiar feature of the church is its two western towers of unequal height. Legend has it that the towers were built by two brothers. There was a rivalry between them to see who would complete his tower first as well as whose tower would be the more attractive of the two. When the younger brother noticed that his older brother’s tower was taller and more attractive, he decided to kill his brother out of envy. In remorse, he then climbed his own tower, confessed his sin to the people of Kraków and killed himself with the very same weapon. That knife now hangs in the Cloth Hall (Sukiennice) in the shadow of the towers as a memorial and a warning.

If you choose to disregard the legend, you might be happy to know some mere facts regarding the towers. The shorter of the two towers (14th century) was designed as a belfry and contains five bells, one particularly outstanding bell (“the half-Zygmunt”) was cast in 1438. The taller tower was completed in 1477. It is from this latter of the two that the trumpeter can be seen and heard.

BONAVENTURE, PART II

Saint Bonaventure excelled in studies at the University of Paris where he studied with another famous classmate, St. Thomas Aquinas, a friar in the Dominican Order. Just as St. Francis and St. Dominic were contemporaries and are said to have met each other, so also were Bonaventure and Aquinas contemporaries living soon after the deaths of the founders of their orders.

Francis and Dominic were real originals in the spiritual life. They were grasped by an intuition of what the Church was calling for at the time – Dominic saw the need for excellent preaching and started the Order of Preachers; Francis saw the need for authentic fraternal living and started the Order of Friars Minor (meaning “lesser brothers”). Aquinas and Bonaventure each took the insights of their founders and brought them into the life of the academy, where their spiritual intuitions were developed into more systematic philosophy and theology.

For centuries afterward in the Church, there were two main “schools” of thought, the “Franciscan School” and the “Dominican School.” These were not schools in the sense of buildings, but schools as ways of thinking. Both approaches, as they developed over the centuries, continued to carry the basic instincts of their founders. For the early part of this tradition, the “Franciscan School” dominated the universities. Aquinas’ philosophy was so poorly regarded, in fact, that at one point his writings were even banned! Eventually, however, his teaching was redeemed and now is regarded as the basic reference in all seminaries.

In modern times, one seldom hears about the “Franciscan School” any more. In recent decades, Franciscan scholars have been busy recovering what is called the “Franciscan Intellectual Tradition.” There is a great treasure being made available to the larger Church as Franciscans rediscover our unique voice. Listen to St. Bonaventure as he describes one aspect of the spiritual life in his masterpiece, The Journey of the Mind to God:

We must suspend all the operations of the mind and we must transform the peak of our affections, directing them to God alone. This is a sacred and mystical experience. It cannot be comprehended by anyone unless you surrender yourself to it; nor can you surrender to it unless you long for it; nor can you long for it unless the Holy Spirit, whom Christ sent into the world, should come and inflame your innermost soul.

If you ask how such things can occur, seek the answer in God’s grace, not in doctrine; in the longing of the will, not in understanding; in the sighs of prayer, not in research; seek the bridegroom, not the teacher; God and not humanity; darkness not daylight; and look not to the light but to the raging fire that carries the soul to God with intense fervor and glowing love. The fire is God, and the furnace is in Jerusalem, fired by Christ in the ardor of his loving passion. Let us die, then, and enter into the darkness, silencing our anxieties, our passions and all the fantasies of our imagination.

Summertime is a time for vacation, for journeys near or far, and for rest. This summer, give your soul a bit of a rest, give it a vacation, give it a journey, a pilgrimage to God.

Buon viaggio! Buona ventura! Have a good trip!

Fr. Michael

RODZINA

V Światowe Spotkania Rodzin odbywały się w Walencji (Hiszpania) od 1 do 9 lipca 2006. Tematem spotkania było, „Przekazywanie wiary w rodzinie”.

Taki był bowiem temat zarówno samych Spotkań, jak i towarzyszącego im kongresu teologicznego. Benedykt XVI przyjechał do Walencji 8 lipca, a następnego dnia - na zakończenie - odprawił Msze święta.

Pierwsze Światowe Spotkanie Rodzin zwołał do Rzymu Jan Paweł II w roku 1994, który był obchodzony jako Rok Rodziny. Kolejne spotkania odbywały się co trzy lata (Brazylia 1997, Rzym 2000, Manila 2003).

Wyznaczenie Walencji na miejsce Spotkań było jedną z ostatnich decyzji Jana Pawła II. Ogłosił ją 22 lutego 2005 r. W Hiszpanii wszyscy wiedzą, że ten wybór nie był przypadkowy. Rozumieją, że Spotkania są teraz najbardziej potrzebne właśnie tam. W tym kraju bowiem szczególnie ostro scierają się dwie wizje społeczeństwa: laicka i chrześcijańska.

Tysiące rodzin ze wszystkich stron świata zgromadzili się na wspólnej modlitwie, świetowaniu i refleksji na temat znaczenia rodziny w Kościele i świecie.

Podczas homilii w mszy świętej Papież Benedykt XVI powiedział: “Zaden człowiek nie dal sobie życia sam z siebie ani samodzielnie nie posiadał sam podstawowej wiedzy o życiu. Wszyscy otrzymaliśmy od innych życie i podstawowe prawdy o nim i jesteśmy powołani do osiągnięcia doskonałości w relacji i miłownej wspólnocie z innymi. Rodzina, oparta na nierozwalnym małżeństwie mężczyzny i kobiety, wyraża ten wymiar relacji, synowskiej i wspólnotowej, i jest tym środowiskiem, w którym człowiek może się narodzić z godnością oraz wzrastać i rozwijać się w sposób integralny.

“Kiedy rodzi się dziecko, przez relacje ze swymi rodzicami zaczyna należeć do tradycji rodzinnej, która ma jeszcze starsze korzenie. Wraz z darem życia otrzymuje całe dziedzictwo doświadczeń. W związku z tym rodzice mają prawo i niezbywalny obowiązek przekazania go dzieciom: wychowywania ich do odkrywania swej tożsamości, wprowadzania ich w życie społeczne, odpowiedzialne korzystanie z ich wolności moralnej i ze zdolności do kochania przez doświadczenie bycia kochanymi, zwłaszcza zaś w spotkaniu z Bogiem.”

Modlitwa na V Światowe Spotkanie Rodzin w Walencji
“Dziękujemy Ci za naszą rodzinę. Obdarz nas siłą, abysmy pozostali zjednoczeni w miłości, w wspaniałomyślności i w radości wspólnego życia. Prosimy Cię, Panie, aby ten czas przygotowania do Światowego Spotkania Rodzin, był czasem wzmoczonego doświadczenia wiary i wzrostu duchowego naszych rodzin. Wspomóż nas w naszej misji przekazywania wiary, która otrzymałismy od naszych rodziców. Otwórz serca naszych dzieci, aby wzrastało w nich ziarno wiary, którą otrzymali na chrzcie świętym. Umocnij wiarę młodych, aby wzrastali w poznawaniu Chrystusa. Niech wzrasta miłość i wierność we wszystkich małżeństwach, a szczególnie w tych, które przeżywają chwile cierpienia i trudności. Wylej Twoją łaskę i błogosławieństwo na wszystkie rodziny świata, szczególnie na te, które przygotowują się do Światowego Spotkania Rodzin w Walencji. Błogosław naszego papieża Benedykta XVI. Daj mu mądrość i siłę, i udziel nam radości z możliwości przyjęcia go w Walencji razem ze wszystkimi rodzinami świata. Zjednoczenie z Józefem i Maryją prosimy Cię przez Jezusa Chrystusa, naszego Pana. Amen”

Pokój i dobro!

O.Kamil, ofm

CONGRATULATIONS ARE DUE

The following young adults of our parish have persevered in their studies and have earned degrees in their fields. We wish them much luck in the pursuit of their careers. Congratulations and well done!

Thomas Sklodowski from Cleveland State University with a Masters in Economics.

Joanne Sklodowski from The University of Dayton with a Bachelor's in Statistics. She has been accepted at Ohio State Graduate Program to earn her Masters degree.

David Sklodowski completed US Army basic training and is embarking on his new overseas assignment as a Combat Engineer.

Rebecca O'Reilly graduated from Cleveland State University with B.A. in Social Science.

Jeff Leahy earned a B.A. in Business from Kent State University.

Deanna Shuster completed a B.A. in Sociology from Case Western, where she will continue to study for a Masters.

ST. STAN'S HISTORICAL FACT

Prior to the arrival of the Franciscans of the Sacred Heart Province in 1906, the parish was led mostly by Diocesan priests. Father Victor Zareczny from St. Adalbert in Berea began with the Parish in 1873. He was followed by Rev. F. A. Marshall from 1877- 1878, Rev. Wolfgang Janietz OFM from St. Joseph on Woodland Avenue from 1879- 1883, Rev. Anton Kolaszewski, who built our present church from 1883- 1892, and Rev. Benedict Rosinski from 1892- 1905.

RCIA

The RCIA is the Church's ritual process for receiving new members. To prepare for this rite, adult candidates come together weekly to explore their faith and learn what it means to express that faith as Catholic Christians. Some come to be baptized. Some come from another Christian tradition and seek to understand a Catholic perspective and perhaps become Catholic. Some come because they had limited instruction in the Catholic faith and seek deeper understanding. The inquiry sessions will begin in September and all are welcome. Please call the rectory, 341-9091.

VIBRANT PARISH LIFE—PHASE II

Over the next several months, bulletin inserts with the Vibrant Parish Life—Phase II logo in the upper right hand corner will periodically be included, providing information on realities in the Catholic Church today. These are intended to provide information, teaching, and a forum for parish study and discussion. Please take a few minutes to read these documents and use the questions at the end to encourage further reflection and dialogue.

GIVE YOUR CHILD A GIFT THAT WILL LAST FOREVER

A good education is necessary to succeed in today's competitive world.

Elementary school is where children develop the discipline and learning skills that will serve them throughout the rest of their lives. It is for that reason the staff and teachers of St. Stanislaus School dedicate themselves to provide your child the best education possible.

St. Stanislaus Elementary School is now accepting registrations for the 2006-2007 school year for those students that will be coming back to our school for the next term and new students grades K-6. New Registrations for grades 7 and 8 must first meet with the Principal before we can register them. Call 341-9091 for more information.

2007 MASS BOOK IS OPEN

Those who wish to reserve Masses for wedding anniversaries and anniversaries of deaths in 2007 can do so at this time. Mass intentions for 2007 will be accepted in person at the rectory, from 9:30 AM until 4:30 PM, on Thursdays and Fridays only. You may also mail your Mass intentions or drop them into the collection basket along with the customary stipend and your requested dates. Please do not phone as we cannot accept phone reservations.
