Lajkonik...One More Tartar Related Tradition from 1287

Just when you've digested the legend regarding the Tartar invasion of 1241, there is still one more tradition that has been carried down through the centuries commemorating the next and last invasion by that same horde—the lajkonik (hobby horse).

The year 1287 saw the last disastrous invasion of the city (at least by the Mongols) and, finally, an opportunity for the royal city the chance to grow and blossom in relative peace. As is typical of the traditions of war, the concept of 'booty' is a consequence. In the instance of this last battle the booty involved some rather colorful items including regalia belonging to the Khan of the invading force. Clothing of both the leader as well as decorative coverings of his horse were amongst these items, thus the fabrication of what looked like a half man/half horse. Referred to as the lajkonik, this tradition began on the feast of Corpus Christi when this character paraded through the streets showing off his regalia, becoming part of the religious pageant and procession. He was accompanied by other members of his fighting team (the traditional guild of raftsmen who were defenders of the city in 1287), traditionally dressed in captured Mongolian garb, walking through the streets being greeted by the people, eventually meeting the leader of the city at the town square, outside of Kościół Mariacki, bestowing upon him a tribute in the form of a good stiff drink! (cytrynówka??!!)

COME AWAY AND REST A WHILE

After a few years now of being a parish priest, I have a new respect for the many families who settled and built this neighborhood — and many like it around the country — and established small businesses to serve the needs of the community around them. Our neighborhood is filled with buildings designed to be small stores with living quarters attached. You can tell them by the boarded up and closed off first floor street entrance, some more tastefully done than others. Butcher shops, produce markets, bakeries — so many places here remind us of a time long past. Yet there are still parishioners and neighbors who remember those days, and some (like funeral homes) are still around.

Families in these places gave us the phrase, “living above the store.” It described not only an architectural feature, it described a way of life. It implied a negative side, too. One could never really get away from it all, never leave work behind and come home to the sanctuary of home and family. The two most important worlds they lived in, home and work, were merged into one. And it took its toll.

Living and working at a parish rectory is similar. On the one hand, it is kinda nice that I don't have to drive to work! And I can keep working late at night, when it is quiet, and not worry about a long trip home in the wee hours. If I forget exactly where I left something, say, either on my dresser or in my desk, I don't have to drive for hours to find out. I just walk up the stairs and check.

On the other hand, there is a down side. I can never really take a day off and stay here, since the phone is always ringing, the doorbell is always beckoning, and there is the constant presence of projects underway, unanswered e-mail, a desk to clear. And our living room and kitchen are not exactly private during the day. Imagine if someone just walked into your own kitchen while you were having morning coffee or lunch, just to fill you in on the latest gossip! “Private space” is an ongoing negotiation at a busy parish rectory.

That is why it is so wonderful to read Jesus' invitation in the Gospel this weekend. It is a divine command to make a get-away! Imagine, even Jesus and his disciples got tired and needed a break. They needed to get away, to pray, to refresh, to spend time with one another in simple conversation and not just planning the next journey or arguing about some text in scripture.

Just hangin' out with Jesus!

Recently I had to attend a meeting in Denver, Colorado. Instead of flying there and back, so that I could spend every possible moment working here, I decided to drive out and take my time coming back. Four thousand miles, all alone in my little car! And what a delight it was, to do a 21st century version of Jesus' invitation: Come away and rest awhile.

Summer is not over yet. There is still time! Listen to Jesus, he's got a great idea: Get away, take it easy, and just “be!”

Fr. Michael

W dzisiejszej Ewangelii słyszymy jak apostołowie gromadzą się wokół Jezusa opowiadając Mu wszystko co działali i czego nauczali. Ich działanie jest akceptowane przez Mistrza skoro zachęca ich do odpoczynku.

Apostołowie wiedzą, że działają dobrze, gdyż w Jezusie mieli stały punkt odniesienia. Lecz wokół znajdował się tłum, który tego punktu odniesienia do Jezusa prawie instynktownie szukał błędząc często bez celu. Jezus pełen współczucia zajmuje się nimi ”nauczając ich, gdyż byli podobni do owiec pozbawionych pasterza.”

Ten tłum najpierw opuszczony i rozproszony, czuje, że znalazł element duchowy, który nasyciłby głód poznania życia; w końcu otrzymali pewność niebłądzenia więcej, gdyż to właśnie Jezus jest Drogą, Prawdą i Życiem i tylko On jest jedynym i prawdziwym Nauczycielem. Ci wszyscy, którzy dotąd byli tylko “jednostkami” - nie dostrzeżonymi przez nikogo, zwykłym tłumem- od tego momentu stają się osobami, które przechodzą od nieufności do zaufania, od sceptycyzmu do wiary, od nieznamości bliźniego do odkrycia w drugim człowieku swojego brata, dając tym samym początek prawdziwej wspólnoty.

W Chrystusie wypełniły się więc przepowiedzi proroka Jeremiasza o dniach królowania Boga jako Dobrego Pasterza gromadzącego owce z całej ziemi. Jego przyście stało się okazją “do wykonywania prawa i sprawiedliwości” (por. Jr 23,5)

Pozwólmy zatem aby On nas odnalazł i zgromadził w swojej owczarni, byśmy z nim tworzyli wspólnotę pozbawioną lęku, wrogości i niepewności tak aby nasze życie stawało się świadectwem Jego istnienia.

Otwórzmy się na działanie Jego łaski ponieważ tylko dzięki niej możemy zrozumieć siebie, otaczający nas świat i drugiego człowieka i nasze powołanie

Chcę przy okazji tego rozważania podziękować dobremu Bogu za wszelkie dobro, które świadczy w moim życiu, za dar narodzin, religijnego wychowania, ludzi, których postawił na mojej drodze i wspaniałą łaskę powołania do zakonu św. Franciszka oraz kapłaństwa a wreszcie możliwość przebywania w waszej wspólnoty parafialnej. Myślę, że to bardzo ważne doświadczenie w moim zakonnym i kapłańskim życiu dlatego chcę prosić Was o modlitwę w mojej intencji.

O. Pawel

MANNA UPDATE

We wish to sincerely thank Mary Ellen Guisinger for her hard work in organizing and administrating the Manna Program since its inception. Being a wife and mother of three active young children is more than a full time job and now that the program is established she felt that she can step down when someone came forward to continue the excellent job she started.

Nancy Mack is our new Manna Coordinator. She brings great creativity and energy to this program, and the parish will certainly benefit from her success.

We thank all those who have supported the program and ask that you continue that support.

We still have a few hundred dollars worth of TOPS cards available for sale. A call to TOPS has assured us that they are still in business and accepting the cards. We will be selling the $25 cards after Masses until they are gone. Watch for sales in the back of the church after Masses.

ST. STANS HISTORICAL FACT

In the late 1940's St. Stanislaus High School competed in the Congress Basketball League. This League consisted of St. Stanislaus, St. Michael on Scranton Road, Our Lady of Lourdes at Broadway and East 55, St. Boniface on West 54, St. Procop on West 41, and St. John Cantius in Tremont. From the February 1948 issue of the Congress League newspaper, "St. Procop's and St. Stanislaus are the only undefeated teams in the league. St. Stan's remains untried in second half play defeating St. John Cantius, 57- 21 and St. Boniface, 59- 24." In school notes in the same issue it states, "Father Ed, much to the delight of all, has purchased warm-up jackets for the St. Stan's basketball teams and the cheerleaders. The Juniors and Seniors were treated to an ice skating party on January 18. Everyone was on their feet most of the time. The party was climaxed with the serving of hot chocolate and sandwiches."

Polish Festival Cooking is on a Roll!

This past week our kitchen was heated up and the cabbage rolls were being stuffed! Over 30 pans of stuffed cabbage were made! This week we will be rolling over to the Beef Roll-Ups. Our volunteers will be making Beef Roll-Ups, one of the FAVORITE items on the festival food menu, on July 27th and 28th. The rolling will begin at 10:00am and continue till 3:00pm each day. We will need people to help chop and dice vegetables that get rolled into the beef. Come learn the secret ingredient behind the success of this favorite food. Call Joe at 216/271-0832 with any questions.

Look in your mailboxes the 1st week of August for your Festival raffle tickets!

Raffle Prizes Needed

One of the many fun things to do at the festival is our Games of Chance booth. We have many great prizes that get donated every year. Although we do have some great prizes left over from last year, we still need to restock. So any type of prizes from Stuffed Animals, board games, dolls, trucks or adult prizes can be of great use. Please bring them to the rectory during office hours or bring them to church and give them to either of the priests or ushers at your Mass.

Remember to contact Marilyn Mosinski at 216-441-1533 or Joe Calamante at 216-271-0832 with any questions or concerns regarding the festival.
