Message for 14th Sunday Ordinary Time

Saddened by the lack of faith displayed by the people of His own town, Jesus only performed a few healings for the sick who had come to hear and see Him. What a missed opportunity that must have been for those who needed Jesus the most. What might the scene have been if His own people had welcomed Him with joy and faith? If He had been accepted and welcomed by His own what might He have achieved, what miracles might He have performed, how might people's lives have been changed after hearing His words, experiencing the healing touch of His hand, and how many might have been delivered from sin and darkness simply because of His presence. It is a story that tells us that the lack of faith by the crowd actually makes a huge difference in other people's lives. It might also suggest to us that maybe the presence of faith can also make a huge difference in our lives and in the lives of those around us. If the lack of faith brings sadness maybe the presence of faith can bring joy.

Sometimes in life we make bad decisions, we treat people with disrespect, we fail to live up to our calling in life, as priests, as husbands and wives, as parents, as sons and daughters, and as brothers and sisters. After a time we might realize that we have failed and we might experience a change of heart, what we might call, a conversion. It can be hard to begin to live differently, sometimes because we are out of practice, but at other times because the people in our lives can make it difficult. They remember who we were and how poorly we treated them. They have been hurt and they have learned to be wary of us. We can have faith to change because we are not accepted.

Nevertheless, it is important that we remember that because of faith, the blind see, the deaf hear, the lame walk, the sick are healed, the dead rise, the hungry are fed, the lost are found, demons are banished, sins are forgiven, and the darkness is overcome by the light. Without faith - none of these things happen. It may be hard to be the prophet in our communities, in our families, in our marriages, but faith in Christ makes all things possible. Faith in Jesus brings life. Aren't our children, our families, our wives and husbands, mothers and fathers, worth it? Let us have faith and make a difference. Have courage and experience what it means to have Victory through Faith.

A Story About Giving

A Beautiful Tale for the Whole Family

Christ said: "unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven" (Mt 18:3). In this animated storybook narration, young Thomas's pure heart helps him to see the path to heaven and inspires his family to join him on the journey.

Watch on formed.org

*This is an absolutely delightful story, with a much deeper meaning than what appears on the surface! I loved it for many reasons, but especially because it reminded me of several incidents with some of my own grandchildren.

FAITH, FRIENDS, FELLOWSHIP, & FUN

Totus Tuus (a Latin phrase meaning "totally yours") was the motto of Pope St. John Paul II. It signifies our desire to give ourselves entirely to Jesus Christ through the hands of our Blessed Mother Mary.

The mission of Totus Tuus is to inspire in young people a true longing for holiness. Seminarians and college students from the Archdiocese of Cincinnati carry this mission to every young person and participant of Totus Tuus.

The youth see that these young adults are joyful and on fire with the Catholic faith, which encourages them to strive for the same thing in their lives.

St. Benedict, the Father of Western monasticism and brother of Scholastica, is considered the patron of speliologists (cave explorers). He was born in Nursia, Italy and educated in Rome. He was repelled by the vices of the city and in about the year 500, fled to Enfide, thirty miles away. He decided to live the life of a hermit and settled at the mountainous Subjaco, where he lived in a cave for three years, fed by a monk named Romanus. Despite Benedict's desire for solitude, his holiness and austerities became known and he was asked to be their abbot by a community of monks at Vicovaro. He accepted, but when the monks resisted his strict rule and tried to poison him, he returned to Subiaco and became a center of spirituality and learning. He left suddenly, reportedly because of the efforts of a neighboring priest, Florentius, to undermine his work, and in about 525, settled at Monte Cassino. He destroyed a pagan temple to Apollo on its crest, brought the people of the neighboring area back to Christianity, and in about 530 began to build the monastery that was to be the birthplace of Western monasticism. Soon disciples again flocked to him as his reputation for holiness, wisdom, and miracles spread far and wide. He organized the monks into a single monastic community and wrote his famous Rule prescribing common sense, a life of moderate asceticism, prayer, study, and work, and community life under one superior. It stressed obedience, stability, zeal, and had the Divine Office as the center of monastic life; it was to affect spiritual and monastic life in the West for centuries to come. While ruling his monks (most of whom, including Benedict, were not ordained), he counseled rulers and Popes, ministered to the poor and destitute about him, and tried to repair the ravages of the Lombard Totila's invasion. He died at Monte Cassino on March 21 and was named patron protector of Europe by Pope Paul VI in 1964. His feast day is July 11.
