

Notable Buildings of Maplewood Village

In the early 20th century, Maplewood village was largely residential. In response to a rapidly growing population, shops and businesses began to move in by the 1920s. Look up and see the names over some of the doorways. Note the art-deco columns of the buildings on Baker Street and the beautiful stone work of the churches.