WHOEVER WISHES TO COME AFTER ME MUST DENY HIMSELF, TAKE UP HIS CROSS, AND Follow Me.

MATTHEW 16:24
The Suffering Servant

Reflection on Matthew 16:21-27

Today’s Gospel continues the story that began in last week’s Gospel. Simon Peter was called the “rock” upon which Jesus would build his Church, and yet Peter continues to show the limitations of his understanding of Jesus’ identity. Now that the disciples have acknowledged that Jesus is the Messiah, Jesus confides in them the outcome of his ministry: he must suffer and die in Jerusalem to be raised on the third day. Peter rejects this prediction, and Jesus rebukes him severely, calling him “Satan.” In opposing this aspect of Jesus’ mission, Peter shows that he is no longer speaking based on the revelation from God but as a human being. Jesus then teaches all of the disciples about the difficult path of discipleship: to be Christ’s disciple is to follow in his way of the cross.

Peter could not yet understand what it meant to call Jesus the Messiah. It is unlikely that the other disciples understood any better. Messianic expectations were a common aspect of first-century Judaism. Under Roman occupation, many in Israel hoped and prayed that God would send a Messiah to free the Jews from Roman oppression. The common view was that the Messiah would be a political figure, a king that would free Israel from Roman rule. This is perhaps what Peter envisioned when he was led to recognize Jesus as the Messiah. In this passage, however, Jesus is beginning to teach his disciples that he would be the Messiah in a different way.

Jesus would be more like the suffering servant described by the prophet Isaiah than the political liberator. Those who would be Jesus’ disciples would be called to a similar life of service. Perhaps this is what Peter feared most in Jesus’ prediction of his Passion. He whom Jesus had called “rock” would also be called upon to offer himself in sacrifice and service to others. Christian leaders today are still called to sacrifice and serve others as Jesus did.

St. Gregory the Great

September 3 • Patron Saint of Students

Educated by the greatest and most knowledgeable teachers in Rome, Gregory was the son of a rich Roman senator and Silvia, who would later also become a saint. He grew up to be prefect of Rome and then, only a year later, sold all of his belongings and turned his house into a monastery. He built seven monasteries in Rome and Sicily and became a monk. When he witnessed children from England being sold in the Roman Forum, he became a missionary to England to put a stop to these horrific injustices. He was later elected pope and is also known as the initial collector of melodies and plainsong now known as Gregorian chants. The patron saint of students, Gregory’s love for children and education was immeasurable.

Prayer to St. Gregory the Great

St. Gregory the Great, father of the fathers, I implore your prayers for all of the students who need guidance. Pray they make their studies a top priority and that their teachers are sound and committed. Ask God to let the knowledge flow readily to their hearts and minds and reward them for their sacrifice and dedication to their education. Through the Lord, Jesus Christ, I pray this solemn prayer. Amen.
