We are almost there!
The scaffolding will soon be removed from the exterior, and we can once again see the Basilica’s beautiful steeple reaching up to the heavens and making its imprint on the Norfolk skyline!

We are so excited about the progress that is being made on our beloved church and we are also delighted to report that we are very close to meeting our fundraising goal!

As of this week, we have reached three-fourths of the challenge we put to the congregation in February. We are sooo close . . .

It’s not too late for you to be part of this incredible restoration. The name of every contributor to the campaign will be included on the giving tree that will be displayed in the new church.

In addition, there are opportunities to rededicate the windows with a contribution of $25,000, which can be spread over several years or shared among families.
Please use the enclosed envelope to help us finish our fundraising task. Or, you can also visit our website to make your secure donation:
http://www.basilicaofsaintmary.org/

If you have any questions, please contact Lyndon Berry at lberry@bsmic.org or (757)622-4487.

Thank you!

FREE EVENT AT ATTUCKS THEATRE:
THE PHOENIX AND THE ASHES
FILM SCREENING

Saturday, July 13 at 7:30pm

Step back in time to a defining period in Norfolk history with this fascinating short film that chronicles Norfolk’s historic St. Joseph’s Catholic Church and School. The history of St. Joseph’s parallels the history of Norfolk in many ways, and is rich with stories of people who championed change, transforming the community—including Father Vincent Warren, who stood up to the Ku Klux Klan to defend his association with St. Joseph’s, which was then the only black Catholic Church and the first black high school in Norfolk. Through the years, St. Joseph’s nurtured generations of African Americans, creating a tight-knit community with deep roots in Norfolk. The church staged several productions at the Attucks Theatre and many former parishioners recall the later historic football games between St. Joseph’s and Booker T. Washington High School. The film, which will be screened in the historic Attucks Theatre, will be followed by a panel discussion and opportunities for the audience to share their own stories.

This event is free and open to the public and is part of the Attucks at 100 Celebration. For more information on the Attucks Theatre, please visit Attucks100.com.
