Second Sunday in Lent
And, Behold two men were conversing with Him, Moses and Elijah
March 17, 2019

There is not a day that goes by that we are not in need of God’s overflowing grace and peace. Every morning we need his Spirit to fill us again, to strengthen us for what is ahead. Everyday we need a fresh word that He speaks to our hearts, to keep us focus on what's important. Trying to live this thing we call life without him centering on him will do nothing but drain us dry.

In the Book of Exodus, we read the story of how God’s people had endured years of bondage under the Egyptians. They were an oppressed, abused, and mistreated people. They needed rescue, they needed a way of escape. God saw their need, He did not miss a thing, and in His perfect timing, He acted on their behalf.

We, today, are a people in need.

God met the Israelites where they were. He will meet us where we are. On the journey, they were totally dependent on God, who they needed to trust and obey or die in the desert. Even Jesus faced God’s enemy and ours, the one who has hated us from the beginning. Jesus had just been baptized in the Jordan River, even though John protested. Jesus insisted that He be treated like all the others there seeking a renewal in their relationships with God. When He came up out of the water, a Voice from heaven spoke, saying, “This is My beloved Son, with Whom I am well-pleased” (Mt. 3:17). It was on the heels of His public solidarity with sinners and His Father’s expressed pleasure in Him that Jesus was led by the Holy Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil. This would be a strange order of events if we didn’t understand that just as Jesus identified Himself with His brothers in baptism, He was also identifying with them in facing the test of His love for the Father.

The Bryant Family extends grateful thanks to the Father Jim, staff, and Parish Community for their outpouring of love, prayers and consolation after the loss of our beloved family members in the past 13 months. Beverly, Mom and Jackie will be missed and our hearts remain heavy, but we have been uplifted by your thoughts, outreach by phone and card, and expressions of faithfulness. Words cannot express our sincere thanks and gratitude to you all. To God be all the glory.
