Friends

*Friends are special people who accept the way you are.
They stand by you in trouble,
or when you're swinging
on a star.*

*Your relatives and family
are yours because of birth,
but friends you pick and choose
because they're folks of special worth.*

*As we go through life we realize our friends become more dear.
We consider them our blessings
each time we add a year.*

JUST A LITTLE SIGN OF MY AFFECTION ON VALENTINES DAY.

Jokes for the month:

A letter from a mother to her son:

Dear Matt,

I'm writing this letter slow because I know you can't read fast. We don't live where we did when you left home. Your dad read in the paper that most accidents happen within twenty miles from your home, so we moved. I won't be able to send you the new address, as the last family that lived here took the house numbers when they left so that they wouldn't have to forward their address. This place is nice. It even has a washing machine. I'm not sure it works too well. Last week I put a load in, pulled the chain, and haven't seen them since. The weather isn't too bad. It only rained twice last week. The first time it rained for three days, and the second time it rained for four days.

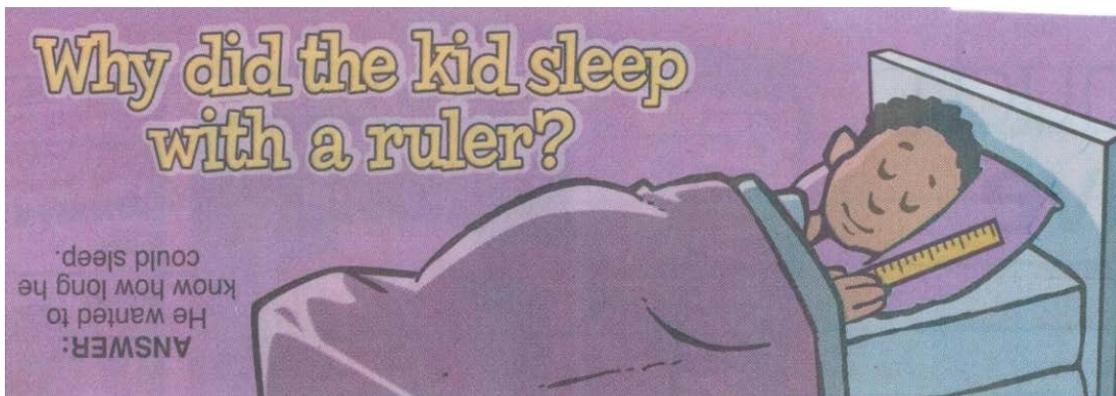

The coat you wanted me to send you, your Aunt Sue said would be a little too heavy to send in the mail with the buttons on, so we cut them off and put them in the pocket. We got another bill from the Funeral home. They said if we don't make the last payment on Grandma's funeral, up she comes.

Your Uncle Stan locked his keys in his brand new Buick yesterday. We were worried because it took him two hours to get Aunt Anna and the kids out. Your sister had a baby this morning. I haven't found out what it is yet, so I don't know if you are an aunt or uncle. Your Uncle John fell in a whiskey vat. Some men tried to pull him out but he fought them off and drowned. We had him cremated, and he burned for three days.

Three of your friends went off a bridge in a pickup truck. One was driving, the other two were riding in the back. The driver got out. He rolled down the window and swam to safety. The other two drowned because they couldn't get the tailgate open. There isn't much more news at this time. Nothing much has happened.

Love, Mom

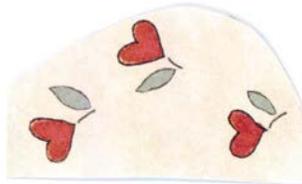

P.S. I was going to send you money but the envelope was already sealed.

Little words of inspiration:

All things grow with love.

People who have no time don't think.
The more you think, the more time you have.

Wisdom People Health Ministry

Protect yourself during flu season!

During the fall and winter months, it's more important than ever to arm yourself with all the right tools to keep yourself safe from the flu virus. Getting your yearly flu shot can be your best protection against catching the flu, which is a virus that can be more serious than the common cold. The virus that causes the flu can change often, which means that it's important to get your flu shot every year. The best time to get the flu vaccine is in late October or November, but flu shots can still be effective if you get one in December or later.

Tips to help you stay healthy this season:

- Wash your hands often with warm water and antibacterial soap.
- Eat well and get plenty of rest. Manage your stress level and get some form of exercise regularly.
- Avoid smoking or using tobacco products.
