

Grad writes about wonder of teaching

Abby Gross

Contributed

Abby Gross, a 2010 graduate of Miamisburg City Schools, is an English teacher, workshop presenter and author. She strongly believes in the power teachers have to tap into their own creativity and talents to lead, inspire, and transform their students, classrooms and schools.

Gross just recently co-authored a book with fellow workshop presenters (Jenna Copper, Ashley Bible, and Staci Lamb) called Keeping the Wonder. The book is structured around four key elements that encourage engagement-surprise, curiosity, freedom and inspiration.

Another graduate of Miamisburg City Schools, Kristen Harris is featured as an educator that is a wonder maker. You can find Abby Gross on Instagram and Facebook as "Write On With Miss G" as well as on the Keeping the Wonder website and social media platform.
