ST. JOAN OF ARC SCHOOL

we pray
we fast
we give alms

Dear School Families,

Happy Holy Week! I decided to send a Tuesday edition of our Wednesday newsletter as the likelihood of reading our newsletter certainly decreases on the last day before a long break.

Thank you to everyone that came out to The Etcetera for fish fry last Friday. I wish we would have been able to join as I hear it was a wonderful time again. Thank you so much to The Etcetera, especially Laura Fischer and Brian Borkowski for helping us to arrange these fun evenings out as a school community. We look forward to additional community-building events in the future.

Each Wednesday during Lent we begin our school day with prayer at the Sierra Cross. In this prayer, students read prayers and affix symbols to the cross in our entry space to recall Christ's passion and death. Join us tomorrow morning as we add the last symbols of the season. Similarly, last week several of our students acted out Stations of the Cross for the others to gain a deeper understanding of what Christ experienced. Check out this picture from the prayer.

In another way to connect with Jesus, tomorrow the school day will end with the students in our middle school participating in a model Seder Meal. The Seder Meal is a representation of and opportunity to learn about the meal Jesus would have shared with his disciples at the Last Supper. It is a beautiful prayer, and one of the most meaningful of all that the students participate in during their years at St. Joan of Arc. Participation in the model Seder supports entering break spiritually prepared for the Triduum. We are so grateful to Mary Gross for all the effort she puts in to arrange for this prayer as an annual tradition for our middle school students.

Because Easter Vacation leads us close to the end of the month, I want to remind you all that lunch forms are needed asap. All forms need to be turned in before we leave for the break. If you have not yet turned in your forms, please make sure to return them by tomorrow.

Lenten Blessings, Mrs. Holly Cerveney, Principal
