

The St. Joan of Arc Wednesday News

Character † Academic Excellence † Service † Spiritual Development

September 19, 2018

Dear Families,

Thank you very much to those of you that completed the Safeguarding training in the last couple of weeks. For those of you that have not yet completed the training, there are a lot of opportunities around. Available sessions can be found at <https://www.archmil.org/offices/safeguarding.htm>.

On Thursday mornings, our 7th and 8th graders run their small coffee business, Coffee and Chill, in our school entry way. They ask for a minimum donation of $2 per cup. All proceeds are donated to Zachariah's Acres and the Humane Animal Welfare Society. See last week's newsletter for a message from the students about their business. Drop in tomorrow morning and buy a cup to support our student entrepreneurs.

This weekend the day is finally here! Our annual golf to support our athletics programming is this Saturday. We have a great turnout and we look forward to the weekend. Thank you to all that are signed up to golf, dine, or help with the day! Check out this photo of several of our parents enjoying the dinner at last year's outing.

In today's newsletter are our lunch forms for the month of October. These forms should be turned in as soon as possible to Kathy Zwick in the office.

I am very excited for us to begin our Parent Education Nights with our first session, Learning Your Child's Love Languages on Wednesday, Sept. 26. Please see the fliers for these nights in your Wednesday letter and let us know if you are planning to attend.

While it is a ways out, I want to make sure to draw your attention to Grandparents' Day, which will be held on Friday, October 26. That date is an early release and we have a wonderful morning with Mass, continental breakfast, classroom visits, and a talent/variety show planned for the morning. If you have out-of-town grandparents, please ask them to mark their calendars and save the date now.

As another save-the-date, see the image on the following page of this newsletter and plan to join us for our school's biggest fundraiser of the year, Boots and Bling. More information will come about the event in the coming weeks. Mark your calendars now!

God's Blessings! Mrs. Holly Cerveney, Principal

Variety Show

On Friday, October 26, we are going to hold a student Variety Show! Students can sing, dance, act, do a comedy act, perform a skit, and more!

Please talk to your child about putting an act together for the show. The best part is that this will take place the morning of Grandparents' Day. Our grandparents/special guests that morning will be able to enjoy the show to round out their morning. Please fill out the form for any acts and submit by Oct. 1. The show will be in the gym at 10:15 a.m.

Are YOU smarter than a Catholic school student?

Last week's question: "Christ" means "anointed one."

This Week: Approximately how many Catholic Priests are there worldwide?

Congratulations FROG Award winners: Mika Adams, Rye Hunter, Nico Kemen, and Ellie Madsen!

St. Joan of Arc Annual Talent & Variety Show!
Friday, October 26; 10:15 a.m.

We are looking for students, parents, teachers, and staff to have some fun by either singing, dancing, telling jokes, or playing an instrument – whatever! So, grab your friends and use your imagination, have fun, and show us what you can do. In the past we have seen joke tellers, gymnastic performers, song & dance routines, hula hoopers, and more!

Please contact Holly Cervený with any questions.

St. Joan of Arc Talent & Variety Show: Friday, October 26
(Please return to the school office no later than October 1st)

Vaccines Recommended at Ages 11-12: What Parents Should Know

Why does my child need vaccines now?

Vaccines aren't just for babies. Some of the vaccines that babies get can wear off as kids get older. And as kids grow up they may come in contact with different diseases than when they were babies. There are vaccines that can help protect your preteen or teen from these other illnesses.

What vaccines does my child need?

Tdap Vaccine

This vaccine helps protect against three serious diseases: tetanus, diphtheria, and pertussis (whooping cough). Preteens should get Tdap at age 11 or 12. If your teen didn't get a Tdap shot as a preteen, ask their doctor or nurse about getting the shot now.

Meningococcal Vaccine

Meningococcal conjugate vaccine protects against some of the bacteria that can cause meningitis (swelling of the lining around the brain and spinal cord) and septicemia (an infection in the blood). Preteens need the first meningococcal shot when they are 11 or 12 years old and a second meningococcal shot at age 16. Teens who got the meningococcal shot when they were 13, 14, or 15 years old should still get a second shot at age 16. Older teens who haven't gotten any meningococcal shots should get one dose as soon as possible.

HPV Vaccine

Human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccines help protect both girls and boys from HPV infection and cancer caused by HPV. All preteens need HPV vaccination so they can be protected from HPV infections that cause cancer. HPV vaccination is a series of shots given over several months. Teens and young adults who didn't start or finish the HPV vaccine series also need HPV vaccination. The best way to remember to get your child all of the shots they need is to make an appointment for the remaining shots before you leave the doctor's office or clinic.

Flu Vaccine

The annual flu vaccine is the best way to reduce the chances of getting seasonal flu and spreading it to others. Even healthy preteens and teens can get very sick from the flu and spread it to others. While all preteens and teens should get a flu vaccine, it's especially important for those with chronic health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, and heart disease to get vaccinated. The best time to get the flu vaccine is as soon after it's available in your community, ideally by October. While it's best to be vaccinated before flu begins causing illness in your community, flu vaccination can be beneficial as long as flu viruses are circulating, even in January or later.

When should my child be vaccinated?

A good time to get these vaccines is during a yearly health checkup. Your preteen or teen can also get these vaccines at a physical exam required for sports, school, or camp. It's a good idea to ask the doctor or nurse every year if there are any vaccines that your child may need.

What else should I know about these vaccines?

These vaccines have all been studied very carefully and are safe. They can cause mild side effects, like soreness or redness in the part of the arm where the shot was given. Some preteens and teens might faint after getting a shot. Sitting or lying down when getting a shot and then for about 15 minutes after the shot, can help prevent fainting. Serious side effects are rare. It is very important to tell the doctor or nurse if your child has any serious allergies, including allergies to yeast, latex, or chicken eggs, before they receive any shots.

How can I get help paying for these vaccines?

The Vaccines for Children (VFC) program provides vaccines for children ages 18 years and younger, who are not insured, Medicaid-eligible, American Indian or Alaska Native. You can find out more about the VFC program by going online to www.cdc.gov and typing VFC in the search box.

Where can I learn more?

Talk to your child's doctor or nurse about what vaccines they may need. You can also find more information about these vaccines on CDC's Vaccines for Preteens and Teens website at www.cdc.gov/vaccines/teens.

Using the wisdom of Pope Francis and the expertise of educators like Gary Chapman, author of “The 5 Love Languages of Children” and Dr. Jane Nelson, “Positive Discipline”, we will explore the many ways to better understand our children.

*“Seek to understand your children and be brave.”
-Pope Francis*

Every child has a unique way of feeling loved. When you discover your child's love language - and how to speak it - you can grow and deepen your relationship with your child. Not just for now, but for years to come!

FACILITATOR-
ERIC SZATKOWSKI

For more than 16 years, since the beginning of online child exploitation confronting our country, Eric Szatkowski has earned a reputation as one of the top officers in the nation in apprehending sexual predators who use the Internet and/or cell phones to exploit children. Now, as a retired Special Agent, Eric focuses on cyber safety through dynamic presentations for a variety of audiences.

Eric's presentations inspired the drafting and passage of new legislation in 2006, Wisconsin Assembly Bill 942. This law significantly increased the levels of felonies for online child exploitation, increased maximum prison penalties, and implemented presumptive minimum prison terms for online predators.

In 2014, he was also awarded a Masters Degree in Christian Doctrine from the Graduate School of Theology at Marquette University. Eric is currently a part-time chaplain at Children's Hospital and Ascension Health Care in Milwaukee.
