We have much to be thankful for

Dear Friends,

The whole world just celebrated one of the most significant events of human history and our Christian faith – the birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ. Unlike many who were not fortunate enough, we've also ushered in another year of prosperity and grace, while thanking God for His numerous blessings in the past year!

At this juncture, I am immensely thankful to each one of you and your family for your faithfulness in participating in our worship and ministries. I do appreciate your continuous support of our St. Agnes community, especially for various projects we accomplished last year. With your spiritual, physical, and financial help, we were able to change the entire lighting system in all our facilities into LED energy efficient lights. Likewise, with many volunteers we were able to paint the worship space of the church anew, and installed the sound panels for better acoustic quality. We also have a newly tiled and designed Kemp Hall for various community functions as well. Additionally, in 2022 we had a wonderful Parish Festival with great turn outs and profit margins compared to previous years.

On the school front, we are so proud to have started the K-3 program as a feeder to the primary section that has received great response thus far. Moreover, our students in general are doing better on the academic levels and extracurricular activities. For this we are really grateful to the new and vibrant school team.

Fr. Joy Thachil, SAC
thachilj@stagnesparish.org

Above all, as you may be aware, we are embarking on the Love One Another Capital Campaign as per the Archdiocesan initiative, eventually making our parish even more of a welcoming place for worship and faith formation programs. [See page 8.] This we hope to accomplish through some capital improvements in the church, convent/retreat center, and school environment in the next five years. More details to follow in this regard. Similarly, we as a parish would like to advance our technology and security system in order to make all our facilities safer and thus serve better our parishioners, school, and the local community in Butler.

Finally, I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to God, our Father, for His protection and divine Providence. And now as we've begun this New Year, let us ardently hope and pray for a healthy and peaceful time ahead as we continue our journey of life, being fellow pilgrims and companions to one another in the Lord!

"Let us take delight in the Lord and He will grant your heart's desire." (Psalm 37)

Wishing you a very prosperous and grace-filled New year!

Yours in the Lord,
Fr. Joy Thachil, SAC

Safe Environment

Ten Tips for protecting children and offering outreach to victims/survivors

1 Sexual abuse is about the victim. Many people are affected by abuse but the individual most impacted is the victim who has suffered a violation of trust that can affect his or her entire life.

2 The residual effects of having been abused can last a lifetime. The sense of violation goes deep into a person's psyche, and feelings of anger, shame, hurt and betrayal can build long after the abused has taken place. Those who have been abused can heal, but it often takes time, therapy and the support of loved ones.

3 No one has the right to have access to children. No one, no matter who they are, has an automatic right to be around children or young people who are in the care of the Church without proper screening and without following the rules.

4 Common sense is not all that common. Dioceses, schools, parishes and especially families, must educate themselves and others on how to protect children.

5 Child sexual abuse can be prevented. It is critical to build safety barriers around children and young people to keep them from harm — such as protective guardians, codes of conduct, background evaluations, policies and procedures, and safety training programs.

6 Feeling heard leads toward healing. Relief from hurt and anger often comes when one feels heard, when one's pain and concerns are taken seriously, and a victim/survivor's suffering, pain and anger are acknowledged.

7 You cannot always predict who will be an abuser. Experience shows that most abuse is committed by someone who has gained the trust of a victim/survivor and his/her family.

8 There are behavioral warning signs of child abusers. Some abusers isolate a potential victim by giving him or her undue attention or lavish gifts. Others allow young people to participate in activities which their parents would not approve, such as watching pornography, drinking alcohol, using drugs and excessive touching, such as wrestling and tickling.

9 People can be taught to identify grooming behavior. Grooming behaviors are the actions which abusers take to project the image that they are kind, generous, caring people, while their intent is to lure a minor into an inappropriate relationship. Offenders can be patient and may groom their victim, his or her family, or community for years.

10 Background checks are important. Background checks in churches, schools and other organizations keep predators away from children both because they scare off some predators and because they uncover past actions which should ban an adult from working or volunteering with children.

Joyful singing gives glory to God

Music is such an important part of our spiritual lives. It adds so much emotion and personality to our worship, and truly helps us glorify God. From my first day here, I have been so impressed with how much this community loves to sing. It continues to amaze me each time I have the privilege to lead you in song.

For me, music has always been a way to connect with my faith, even when I'm not feeling particularly holy or faithful. Of all the times I've had doubts or fears, or went through hard times, I am always reminded of God's love each time I sit down at the piano. Music centers us and brings us back to God.

Music is there in our joy, too, not just our sorrows. We all have that song that, the moment it comes on the radio, we just want to dance around and sing at the top of our lungs. It makes so much sense that the most joyful and happiest songs are meant for our Christmas and Easter holidays, when we are celebrating our faith to the fullest. Song amplifies our joy and gives glory to God.

And so, I encourage you to participate in one of the many musical opportunities here at St. Agnes. Love to sing? Consider joining our choir or becoming a cantor. Play an instrument? We would love to put your talents to good use. Even if these roles aren't for you, make sure you sing proudly in the pews each weekend, for all our voices together create something truly beautiful. Collectively, we can use our God-given gifts to worship together and create an even stronger community.

St. Agnes takes part in National Eucharistic Revival

by Butch Brockman

The Archdiocese of Milwaukee is participating in the National Eucharistic Revival; a three-year encounter called for by the United States Catholic Bishops as a call to have all Catholics focus on the source of our faith – Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. We are also called to be disciples of our faith communities to recognize, as Archbishop ListECKI states, “the Eucharist is real food, real sacrifice, real presence and a real relationship” with our Lord Jesus Christ.

According to the National Eucharistic Revival’s “Leaders Playbook,” the key focus of the National Eucharistic revival is to lead the Church in the United States back to our apostolic roots through encounter with and rediscovery of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. This is a change from the Christendom way of teaching Catholicism and the role the Catholic Church plays in our communities.

The “Playbook” notes the Eucharistic Revival is a call back to the heart of the faith so we can be vessels of Christ in our families, communities and parishes. St. Agnes will play an active role in this Revival; while this is “national in scale, it is local in reach.”¹ We are already in year one of the Revival, “The Year of Preparation.” A small team has already been assembled to prepare St. Agnes for year two of the Revival which will begin on Corpus Christi Sunday, June 11, 2023. The Year of the Eucharistic Revival will kick off with the Archdiocesan Eucharistic Congress on June 10, 2023. St. Agnes will be looking for other parish members to join the team at the Congress to help with spreading this message parish-wide. The goal of the Revival is to reach those who have walked away from the faith or may have never known the Lord.² The Revival will equip us with ways to reach those people. It seeks to make passionate disciples of everyday Catholics...who know the love and refuge that exists in the Holy Eucharist.³

As a sacramental faith, you can see why the Eucharist is seen as the center of this revival.

All of this leads us to the culmination of this three-year process on Corpus Christi Sunday on June 2, 2024. A successful Revival will unify the church so that she is more adequately prepared to live out her mission.⁴

Christian Formation

Opportunities to grow in faith start in January

The new year is a perfect time to set new goals such as learning more about your faith. St. Agnes offers several opportunities to do just that.

Adult Confirmation 2023

As adults we are responsible for taking an active role in our own faith formation. If you haven’t received the Sacrament of Confirmation while in high school consider stepping out in faith and receive that final Sacrament of Initiation. The Sacrament of Confirmation will reignite the fire of the Holy Spirit that you received at Baptism. Six sessions of Adult Formation for Confirmation prep are required to receive the Sacrament. Contact me if you are looking for more information and when sessions will begin.

Adult Faith Formation opportunities

Augustine Institute’s Symbolon will lead you into a deeper understanding of the Church and God’s plan of salvation. Knowing your faith will grow your personal relationship with our Lord Jesus. Join us most Sundays from 9:15-10:15 a.m. in the Christian Formation Room (across from the parish offices).

Starting in mid-January we will be studying the first book of Dr. Scott Hahn’s trilogy on the liturgy, Letter and Spirit. Meetings will be held in person or virtually. This 13-session book study will examine the Liturgy of the Word and the origins of the Lectionary. Contact Christian Formation office at cf@stagnesparish.org or 262-781-6998 if you would like to participate.

Lenten prayer and the Labyrinth: Walking with God

Ash Wednesday is February 22 which marks the beginning of Lent. By making prayer a priority this Lent you will have a more fruitful and meaningful Lent and strengthen your relationship with God. One easy way to do this is by walking humbly with God in the LABYRINTH. A replica of the Chartres, France labyrinth is scheduled to be at St. Agnes during the week of March 3-9. Printed guidelines and suggestions will be available for those new to the labyrinth. Please watch for more information in the coming weeks.

Canvas replica of Chartres labyrinth will be at St. Agnes the week of March 3-8.

Stewardship profile

Ken and Kathy Schroeder

by Ashley Bissen

"If you're not having fun, it's not for you!" That's Ken Schroeder's number one rule when it comes to stewardship and getting involved. Ever since the early '80s when they first became a part of the St. Agnes family, the Schroeders have joined numerous committees and have been integral members of the church and its community.

Ken and Kathy first met through a young adult youth group at their first parish, Our Lady of Good Hope, where they participated in Bible studies and other church events together. They were eventually married there in '77 but moved churches once they had kids.

"We had a choice between St. Agnes and St. Anthony's but chose St. Agnes because the school bus came into our subdivision," Ken jokingly said.

Ken and Kathy's first involvement at St. Agnes started when they enrolled their two sons, Keith and Kurt, in Scouts. Kathy was a den mother of the Cub Scouts and Ken eventually became a Scout Master, which in turn was how they got to know more St. Agnes families and become even more involved in other ministries. Ken even took over the St. Agnes Fish Fry in 2001, and along with Mike McKee and Dawn Endries, ran it for 19 years.

To this day, the Schroeders are engaged in a plethora of activities within the church. Ken is currently a Eucharistic minister, but his primary involvement lies in finance, where he is one of the co-chairs of the St. Agnes Finance Council. His accounting background helps him in that department, as he also continues to do tax returns for small businesses outside of his work for the church.

Professionally, Kathy is now retired from her work as an HUC (Health Unit Clerk) at St. Michael's Hospital but continues her love of helping people through the committees that she is a member of, including the Fellowship Committee, the Evangelization Committee and the Altar Society. Along with the Fellowship committee, Kathy has also helped coordinate the Holly Fair for 30 years.

Above all, however, Kathy's stewardship primarily shines through her love of music.

"To me, music is another form of praying. When I can't think of a prayer, I sing a song," she said. Not only is she a regular cantor at weekend Masses, but Kathy also happens to be a dedicated member of the St. Agnes Choir since the early '80s. You'll often hear her beautiful soprano voice echoing through the church, singing and humming along to all her favorite songs.

When they're not using their time and talents to help the church, Ken and Kathy can be found vacationing somewhere warm. Some of their past vacations include visits to places such as Florida, Hawaii and even Las Vegas! They also enjoy taking care of their two parakeets, whom they graciously took in and adopted from their neighbors. On top of it all, Kathy also makes jewelry which she sells at a local salon and the Holly Fair!

It's clear that the Schroeders have made their mark within St. Agnes as well as on the lives of those they have served during their time here.

"I like to think that we cover it all," Ken said. "I'm the numerical side of things and Kathy takes care of the liturgical."

Ken and Kathy obviously love St. Agnes, and Kathy's explanation of why this is so was plain and simple:

"This is our family. Some of my longest-lasting friendships have come from this church," Kathy replied. "Even a few of my boys' best friends to this day are from St. Agnes!"

It's obvious that Ken and Kathy Schroeder are people lovers and enjoy using their God-given gifts to give back in every and any way they can. If you're looking for some motivation to help solidify your commitment to the church, the Schroeders have some words of advice for you: "A church is a building, and a building needs upkeep. When you give yourself up to God and the church, you're not only helping the church to grow but also yourself in whatever mission or cause you choose to support."

This is our family. Some of my longest-lasting friendships have come from this church. Even a few of my boys' best friends to this day are from St. Agnes.

New Year's resolutions to steward your life

Have any resolutions for 2023? (It's not too late to make them!) New Year's resolutions are a great way to boost the stewardship of your life. After all, resolutions are just goals for enriching our lives.

Here are some areas to consider:

SPIRITUALITY

Grow in faith by engaging spiritual practices. Resolve to pray and read scripture daily, attend worship, give generously, cultivate spiritual relationships, serve church and community.

HEALTH

Gain vitality by resolving to lose weight, eat healthfully, exercise regularly, learn about health and nutrition and get checkups at your doctor and dentist.

INTELLECT

Keep your mind active by resolving to read books, check out educational programs and podcasts, take a class to learn a new language or skill.

RELATIONSHIPS

Resolve to make new friendships and deepen existing ones. Work on family relationships to strengthen bonds and bring people closer to you and other family members.

LEISURE

Include resolutions to help you enjoy life! Vacations, hobbies, activities, getaways, day trips.

FINANCIAL

Get your financial house in order. Resolve to make and keep a budget, reduce debt, increase income, save more and become more learned in money matters.

We are stewards of the life that God has given us. For 2023, pray for God's guidance and make a few resolutions that address your priority issues. And pray for God's help in keeping them. Blessings for 2023!

Archdiocese website explains what stewardship is Stewardship includes the concept of safeguarding - using wisely and justly - our human and financial resources. It is frequently expressed as a call to give our time, talent and financial resources to God, especially through the Church.

Advocating stewardship does not mean we ask people to relinquish all of their possessions. Stewardship does require education and the effort to connect it with our relationships. Stewardship education is about how we care for the possessions that God has entrusted to us. Stewardship calls us to nurture our relationships with God, our families, our church, our workplace, our environment, our suffering neighbors, and our world.

Stewardship is a personal response as Christians to the Gospel call to conversion of mind and heart. Stewardship is a faith response to share all we have and thus participate fully in God's plan for our world.

Stewardship is an expression of discipleship — how we understand and live our lives. Whatever we are and possess is in actuality God's gift that we hold in trust. God calls us to be collaborators in the work of creation, redemption and sanctification.

Jesus enjoins us to live in witness to His love with such an enthusiasm that we freely and gratefully share our gifts with others.

Stewardship is part of our Catholic tradition and who we are as Church. God is the source of all we have and are, and we can learn to see ourselves as caring in the work of God by the way we live, by the way we use our time, talents and financial resources. Stewardship calls for commitment and, for some of us, that might mean a radical conversion. We need to avoid the temptation to make giving an end in itself — it is part of something much larger.

Tithing report — 3rd quarter 2022

Since God graciously gives us everything we have, STEWARDSHIP is a life filled with sharing those same gifts of Time, Talent and Treasure with all God's people. This is the saying on our Stewardship logo. As a tithing parish we are committed to sharing 2.5% of our treasure with those who need our financial support. Our Human Concerns Committee is tasked with this mission. For the third quarter (July-Sept.) of 2022, we donated approximately $3,125. Following is the list of organizations that St. Agnes has supported with these donations:

Aid to the Church in Need: To help children in need

Bread for the World: Advocate for a world without hunger

CARE: Helping families escape extreme poverty

Covenant House: Rescue homeless children

Food for the Poor: Help save innocent children and transform their lives

National Shrine of Our Lady of Good Hope: Support of Religious Shrine
Optimist Club SLLB: To promote St. Agnes Church & School on Hampton Ave.
Sam Beres Memorial Fund: Support childhood cancer research
Second Sense: To help adults with vision loss
St. Coletta: Support for persons with developmental disabilities

Rising Star tutors volunteer at St. Agnes School

by Principal Rachel Kolbeck

The 2022-2023 school year is off to a great start! We have more than 50 new students in our building and each one of them has been a wonderful addition to our St. Agnes One Family!

In addition to the excitement over our new students, we have also been ecstatic to develop a partnership with the Rising Stars Volunteer Tutors.

Rising Stars is an affiliated ministry of the School Sisters of Notre Dame, Central Pacific Province. The mission of the Rising Stars Tutors is to strengthen and enrich reading and math skills for all students at St. Agnes. We currently have 19 tutors with us this year! This has been such a blessing to our school.

The tutors provide enrichment for some of our more advanced students. One of our 4th grade students who is receiving enrichment from one of our Rising Stars tutors said, "I think it is fun! We get to ask a lot of questions. I like it because we get to do all different kinds of extra and harder reading and math problems. There are only a few of us that go with the tutor at a time, so we get more attention specific area. One of our new students who is receiving extra support from a Rising Star tutor said, "I love working with the tutor because I can ask questions when I am confused and they can stop and explain it again." Another student who is receiving instruction in reading from an incredible tutor said, "Ms. Honey is so nice to me and helps me too. She really helped me improve with my reading. She really helped me to not give up."

Our students are benefiting greatly from receiving this quality and individualized instruction and attention. Yet another student who is receiving additional help in reading said, "Mr. Tyler helps me with reading and when I get stuck on a word he helps me. Working with Mr. Tyler alone and away from the class helps me to concentrate and be more focused."

More than ever before, we are seeing a rising number of students who need additional help in reading and math. The effects of the pandemic will be with us for the foreseeable future. Our partnership with the Rising Stars tutors is one way that we are working hard to address the learning loss that our students are facing.

Tutors Chuck Mazza, Geri Kiltenen and Laura Harvancik are all retired teachers. Tutoring not only helps improve students' abilities, it also provides enrichment to many students.

Miss Geri works with a fifth grade student in reading. The tutors bring a lifetime of experience and expertise to students. St. Agnes has 19 volunteers who are in and out of classrooms every day all week long.

It is obvious that the partnership we have created with the Rising Stars tutors has been such a blessing to our school and we are thrilled with everything our students are receiving. Not only do our students benefit greatly and enjoy working with the tutors, our tutors are enjoying their time at St. Agnes as well! Laura Harvancik who is the Executive Director Rising Stars Volunteer Tutoring Program and SSND Associate as well as a tutor herself said "As tutors, we are blessed to work with St. Agnes. It's a beautiful thing...our assistance can be formal, it can be flexible, and our time with your students and staff is always fun! Supporting your kids keeps us fresh while we help young people learn how to begin their lives and build relationships. Thank you for welcoming us to your family!"

As we are finishing our first trimester, we are excited and look forward to the continued growth that will be gained from this special relationship.

Let there be peace on earth

by Jackie Schulz

Peace...the vision of prophets, the message of popes, God's promise for humanity, the gift of Jesus and the Holy Spirit, the prayer of people in every generation. Here we are at the beginning of another new year and still we need peace.

What have the prophets said?

"They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; one nation shall not raise the sword against another, nor shall they train for war again." Isaiah 2:4

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of the messenger who announces peace." Isaiah 52:7

What did Jesus say to his disciples?

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. Not as the world gives do I give peace to you." John 14:27

What have popes written about peace?

Every year on January 1, the Pope marks the World Day of Peace with a special message inviting all people to the work of building peace. This observance of a World Day of Peace was established by Pope Paul VI. The first World Day of Peace was January 1, 1968. Pope Paul wrote in his message: "The world must be educated to love Peace, to build it up and defend it."

According to Pope Francis, God's peace is "a gift that keeps us going." "God's peace is real peace, that enters the reality of life, that does not deny life; that is life. There is suffering, there are the sick people, there are many bad things, there are wars ... but that peace within, which is a gift, is not lost. "

According to the U.S. bishops, here is what we can do:

- 1. Pray. Pray for all those in need of peace in our community and around the world.
- 2. Learn. Seek to understand the issues that lead to conflict. Read the stories of those who have been peacemakers. Visit Pax Christi USA at <https://paxchristiusa.org/> to bring about a more peaceful and just world. Grounded in the Gospel and Catholic social teaching, Pax Christi USA is a membership organization that seeks to model the peace of Christ. See the resources that they offer.

3. Act. Join Catholics and other people of faith to advocate for peacemaking.

Pope Francis' Prayer for Peace*

Lord God of peace, hear our prayer!

Grant us peace, teach us peace; guide our steps in the way of peace. Open our eyes and our hearts, and give us the courage to say: "Never again war!" Instill in our hearts the courage to take concrete steps to achieve peace.

God of the Prophets, God of Love, you created us and you call us to live as brothers and sisters. Give us the strength daily to be instruments of peace; enable us to see everyone who crosses our path as our brother or sister.

Renew our hearts and minds, so that our way of life will always be that of Peace. Amen.

K5 students show how to say "Peace" without words

by Mary Langford

The St. Agnes school theme this year is "Let Peace Begin with Me." The K5 children are learning that PEACE can be a feeling and an action. They are learning how to be peacemakers by using kindness and making good choices. We share a quiet sign of peace during our weekly prayer service and at Mass. We also use the signal of "Peace (two finger v) and Quiet (finger on lips)" as an attention getter. The children are learning that when you offer peace, it spreads and you will get peace back in return.

Archdiocesan Financial Program

Love One Another Capital Campaign

Beginning this month, more information will be shared regarding the Love One Another Capital Campaign to raise funds for extraordinary parish and archdiocese needs not met through the Catholic Stewardship Appeal. The total goal for the Archdiocese is $150 million.

Of that amount, 60% of what each parish raises will remain in the parish. Here at St. Agnes, our tentative wish list for those funds includes the following:

- New school windows on Fairmount Avenue side of the school.
- Bathroom upgrades
- New bleachers
- Improved security
- New carpeting in church
- Rectory repairs
- Chapel and Retreat Center (former convent)
- Technology for Christian Formation

The other 40% raised will fund the following Archdiocesan needs:

- Strengthening 188 parishes (Note: Individual parishes will raise funds for their most immediate needs.)
- Helping those in need (Catholic

THE CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN

Charities, La Sagrada Familia (our mission in the Dominican Republic), and Catholic Social Responsibility (helping urban residents meet their fullest potential)

- Supporting our priests, deacons, seminarians and lay ministers (St. Francis Seminary, Senior Priest Health Care, Formation and Education)
- Supporting Catholic schools (Catholic education - grants to schools, Catholic Schools)
- Strengthening Centers of Prayer and Ministry (Parish, and school repair and replacement fund, rural parishes, Mary Mother of the Church Pastoral Center, the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist, College Campus Ministry)
