

FosterAll

Did you know, there are over 40,000 children currently in foster care in Southern California. That's enough to fill the Staples Center twice!

COVID has taken a toll on the already overwhelmed child welfare system with school closures. Children who are experiencing abuse and neglect are not being reported by teachers, nurses, and counselors and counties are predicting greater numbers of children to be placed in foster care when school begins.

FosterAll is partnering with "Love Has No Limits" and hundreds of faith communities across Southern California as part of a collaborative movement to help these children. Without intervention, many kids "stuck in the system" have 5 paths when they age out of State Care.
