Light To Those in Darkness

In today's readings we come upon the same passage twice. In both Isaiah, the first reading and in our gospel from Matthew we heard:

*Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali,
the way to the sea, beyond the Jordan,
Galilee of the Gentiles,
the people who sit in darkness have seen a great light,
on those dwelling in a land overshadowed by death light has arisen.*

The first is a prophecy. The second is a report. Isaiah said this would happen. Matthew reports that it did happen.

Land of Zebulun, land of Naphtali, where were these places? They were in the northern part of Galilee. One of the cities there was Capernaum. Jesus made Capernaum His base of operation when He started His ministry. These are the people who would first experience the Light.

Four of them were fishermen: Simon, later to be called Peter, and his brother Andrew, and James and his brother John. The Lord's call to them was so powerful that they immediately left their boats and nets. From the very beginning they were told that they would have a mission, they would become fishers of men. The people of Galilee and beyond, far beyond, would no longer walk in darkness.

But many people still walk in darkness. Many people choose to walk in darkness. There are many who do not want to know the truth. They would rather stay in the dark. Here are three examples: Many people do not want to know what happens in an abortion clinic. Nor do they want to know how a woman's life is forever changed when the life within her is destroyed. This is not pleasant. Many people would rather stay in the dark. A second example, many people do not want to know about the 32 billion dollar human trafficking industry. They don't want to hear about sexual slavery, much of which is generated by the porn industry. That is not pleasant to hear or to think about. They would rather stay in the dark. A final example, there are many people who do not want to hear how drugs, including marijuana, are destroying our society. They hide behind the "everybody's doing it" argument and choose to chance destroying their own lives.

Those who have been called by Christ to be His disciples, all of us, have to have the courage to bring the light of His Truth to those who choose darkness.

There are many people who are thrown into darkness. Due to no fault of their own, they are put into horrible situations. There are many children who have been shuffled from home to home in the foster system and then forced to make their way alone in the world when they turn 18. There are many elderly people who are left with hardly any income to support themselves. Just the other day, a thin lady in her late 80's living on $1,100 a month and avoiding necessities like decent food, told me that her fondest hope was that she would die soon so she would not have to worry about her bills any longer. That is no way for a person to finish his or her life. By the way, the money you give to the poor was used to help her. Your generosity has brought light to many who are in darkness.

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Sometimes people will say to me, and, I'm sure, to you, "There is nothing anybody can do. There is no way out for me." Well, there is something we can do. We can love them. We can help wherever possible. We can let them know that they are not alone in the world. We can pray with them. We can pray for them.

The world is beautiful for those who are in the light. The world is horrible for those who are in darkness. We are in the light. We need to bring this light to others. Like Simon Peter, Andrew, James and John, we need to be fishers of men.

We need to let people know about Jesus Christ. We need to let them know that He is alive and active in the world. We need to let them know that He loves them. We need to let them know that He is calling them to come into His Light. We are not followers of Jesus Christ for ourselves. We have not been called to embrace a selfish relationship with the Lord. We have been called so we can use our own unique talents to bring others to Christ. Our central prayer, the fundamental prayer of the Church, is the Mass. The word Mass is derived from the Latin word for sending. We come together each week, and for some every day, to receive the grace, the strength we need to complete the mission we have been given to engage others and lead them to join us in the journey of the Kingdom of God. "Repent, the Kingdom of God is at hand," Jesus preached. "We all need to repent, for the Kingdom of God is here," we echo.

We need to use our unique gifts for the Lord's Kingdom. One person can write well. Another is an organizer. A third handles finances brilliantly. One works well with his hands. Another is a great auto mechanic. One person is naturally caring and personable. Another has the gift of remaining calm when turmoil hits. A third easily sees through people's masks and helps them be their true selves. Whatever our gifts are, we must use them for the Lord. We must bring light to those in darkness. We must become fishers of men, and women, and children and Teens.

Jesus said to us:

*You are the light of the world.
A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden.
Nor do they light a lamp
and then put it under a bushel basket;
it is set on a lamp-stand, where it gives light to all in the house.
Just so, your light must shine before others,
that they may see your good deeds
and glorify your heavenly Father.*

Yours in Christ,

Catholic Schools Week

“Learning Together Through Faith, Kindness and Service”

Please join us for National Catholic Schools Week, our annual celebration of what makes education at St. Ignatius Early Childhood Center outstanding. Starting with 9 a.m. Mass on Sunday, January 26th, we have a whole week of activities planned to show what our students are accomplishing and to celebrate the community we have built to educate tomorrow's citizens and leaders.

This year's theme, "Catholic Schools: Learn, Serve, Lead, Succeed", sums up our goals for student success. It highlights the fact that our school is a part of many other communities, including families, parish, town, and our country. It also focuses on key elements of Catholic education: faith education, academic excellence, leadership and dedication to service. These elements set Catholic schools apart from other educational options. They are why families make sacrifices to provide their children with a Catholic education.

I hope you will visit our early childhood center during our weeklong Open House. Please bring your friends, family and neighbors, particularly those who may be considering a Catholic education for their children.

I am thankful every day for the teachers, staff, parents, volunteers and Parish support that make our school a success. Catholic Schools Week is a great time for all of us to thank them for their dedication and service!

Sincerely,
Sharon Nease, Director

Eucharistic Adoration

Is Christ Really Present in Today's World?

Pope John Paul II wrote in his Letter, Church of the Eucharist, "Jesus instituted the Holy Eucharist on the night He was betrayed, the night before His cruel Suffering and Death. He did so in order that the fruits of His Passion and Death on the Cross the next day would constantly be offered in the Church, to all peoples of every time and place. The Holy Eucharist is indeed the inestimable gift of Christ to us for which the only fitting response is Adoration to the One who said, I Am the Resurrection and the Life, anyone to believes in me, even though he dies, will live." Christ is really present to us in many ways, but in the Eucharist He is the Eucharist as the God Man who is wholly and entirely present. From our Baptism, we literally became the adopted sons and daughters related to each other by the Blood of Christ, so that we are indeed the Body of Christ. When we receive Him in Holy Communion He comes to nourish our bodies, our soul and spirit in this very divine and human intercourse of God's Grace, the power to Love as Jesus loves.

Our same Holy Father quotes Saint Alphonsus Liguori: "Of all the devotions, that of adoring Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament is the greatest after the sacraments, the one dearest to God and the one most helpful to us." It is the Holy Eucharist above all which builds up the Church in unity and love to carry out the mission of Christ which is to draw all people to our heavenly Father through the grace of the Holy Spirit.

February 7th is First Friday, we will have Exposition of the Living Eucharist in our Chapel from 9:30 a.m. to closing with Benediction of Our Lord's Blessing at 9 p.m.
Please sign the Adoration Commitment Book in front of the Church entrance to witness to Christ's Real Presence.
