Our Mission Statement:

UPPSS is an outreach ministry of St. Ignatius of Antioch Church that extends the love of Christ to women who face the challenges of pregnancy and motherhood. We are dedicated to helping women make informed choices by providing information, encouragement, support, and material assistance.

What We Do:

UPPSS provides crisis pregnancy counseling, support during and after pregnancy, information about fetal development, abortion, adoption, parenting, abstinence, chastity, natural family planning, post abortion counseling among many other needs of our cherished mothers.

We offer material assistance in the form of maternity and infant clothing, cribs, strollers, formula, diapers and other baby items.

We make referrals to other community programs and resources.

All services are free of charge.

We must increase our social concern
not only for the unborn child,
but also for his parents,
his mother first and foremost,
if the arrival of her child has pitted her against troubles and worries with which she seems unable to cope”

Pope John Paul II
Homily in Poland June, 1991
