Second Collection for April

April 30: Catholic Home Missions Collection

St. Benedetto (or Benedict) Menni

Brothers of St. John of God care for the sick and those in need. For this reason, from the very beginning, the Hospitaller Order was recognized by the Church as a Congregation of religious brothers with exception of not more than one priest in each community acting as chaplain.

Saint Benedetto Menni was one exception, being an ordained priest in Rome on October 14, 1860. In those years, the Spanish branch of the Hospitallers Order died away as a consequence of some Masonic laws issued in Portugal in 1834 and in Spain in 1835. Saint Benedict was sent to Barcelona on April 6, 1867, to restore the Hospitaller Order in these countries.

After a long struggle, oftentimes risky, he was not only able to gather many vocations—almost a thousand from 1867 to 1903—but also founded in Spain, Portugal and Mexico, 22 hospitals for every kind of sickness, especially for mental patients and handicapped children. Those conditions were the most neglected by the public health care at that time.

He also founded a female branch of the Order, the Hospitaller Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Today, the Sisters are present in 20 countries with almost 80 communities.

What is amazing in the life work of Saint Menni is the number and complexity of the undertakings he faced; but, even more so for their validity, tested for more than a century. The secret lies in his true, heroic detachment by which he always considered himself a docile instrument in the hands of God, without giving room for his personal ambitions or human plans.

His feast day is April 24, the day he died in Dinan, France, in 1914.

Can we trust the Gospels? Were these accounts written centuries later or by individuals with firsthand knowledge of Jesus? What about the so-called "lost gospels," such as the Gospel of Thomas? Get the answers to these questions and many more! Join us as we go through the video Bible study lecture series by Dr. Brant Pitre, The Case for Jesus. In this series, Dr. Pitre examines why the Gospels are reliable sources of information and looks at the historical evidence that backs up this claim.

Sacred Heart School News

We ended our soccer season this week. Our team has greatly improved; however, we lost to Leoma 3-2 on Monday, and we lost 1-0 to Waynesboro on Tuesday. A big thank you to Coach John Miller for his help and dedication to this team.

The Pre-K project of raising butterflies is going well. Hopefully, they will have better luck this time than they did in the fall when only one butterfly made the process to completion.

The parents meeting that was held on Thursday night was well attended, and two important topics, the future of the school lunch program and a future high school was discussed.

The garden project is coming along nicely. Thank you to Regina Tesnow and Kenny and Cathy Rohling for their hard work. We are looking forward to having some fresh vegetables to serve the students at lunch before the end of school.

Sports pictures will be made on Monday, April 24. The seventh and eighth-grade dinner theater will be on Friday night, April 28, at 6:30 P.M. The doors will open at 6:00. The sports banquet and awards will be on Saturday night, April 29.

First Communion will be on Sunday, April 23, during the 10:30 Mass. There will be eleven children receiving Jesus for the first time.

Have a blessed week, and thank you for your continued prayers and support.
