COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED 2 NOVEMBER 2025

The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

LOOKING TO THE LAST DAY

Today the Church remembers all who have walked the way of Christ and passed from this life. The readings all look to the last day, when we shall all rise from the dead and be reunited.

The prophet Daniel announces words of warning and welfare. He cautions us against the judgment to come, but he also comforts us and assures us that all who live a life of virtue and justice will find life eternal.

The reading from Romans reminds us that, because of Christ's passion, death, and resurrection and our entrance into that paschal mystery through baptism, we now share in the new life won by Christ. This recognition has repercussions: we need to live righteously now, that we might rise to life forever with Christ on the last day.

In the Gospel Jesus pledges that all the Father has given him will not be lost. All the faithful will be raised to joy and live forever in the presence of God.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

This week we have in All Souls' Day a commemoration that is linked to the Halloween customs. The big-spending sugar shock holiday is a long way removed from November second's grateful remembrance of the souls who are hidden from our sight, but alive to Christ. Old pagan superstitions might find us holding our breath when going by the graveyard, whereas others might actually go to the cemetery to tend the family graves, to share good food, and remember dear ones. Nowhere does a culture embrace this day as fully as in Mexico. The "Day of the Dead" is a national holiday that unfolds over three full days.

For three thousand years, the indigenous people of Mexico have been mocking death in an annual festival, and the invading Spaniards were shocked at the spectacle. To the Aztecs, life was a dream, and death was the entry into full life. Skulls were thus a symbol of joy and release from life's sorrows. The missionaries found all this a bit creepy, but they moved the three-day feast from August to synchronize it with the Christian calendar. So today, graves are decorated, altars are built in the home to honor the family dead, children feast on candy skulls, and people dress up in elaborate skeleton outfits. The devout spend hours in the cemetery, and there is a lively sense of the communion of saints, the living and the dead.

KID'S CORNER

HOW CAN WE BE SAINTLY?

Saints have done some amazing things, and their stories have laid the groundwork for what we as Christians should strive to be. We don't even know who most of the saints are, considering there are over 10,000 of them. Even if you chose to study one of them each day, it would take over 27 years to make it through all of them, with more saints being canonized each year. Pope Francis alone canonized 942 of them during his papacy (2013-2025).

How can we remember them all? How are we supposed to study them all to become more saintly? That's what All Saints Day is for. While we may not know the whole list of saints, we can study them and pray to all of them on All Saints Day in recognition of their lives and what they did to serve God and the Church. On this day we also recognize those who are Blessed, those who are on the way to become a saint.

But how do we become more "saintly", like St. Peter who opted to be crucified upside down because he didn't feel worthy to be martyred in the same way that Jesus was? Or St. Francis of Assisi who threw himself into a rose bush from a third story window because he had sinned (although God comically took all the thorns away so he wouldn't hurt himself; St. Francis was not happy about that)? How are we supposed to imitate them?

Well, not all of the saints went to extremes to live out their faith. From St. Carlo Acutis (who was canonized just a couple months ago) who documented Eucharistic miracles on a website, modeling how to evangelize in modern society, to St. Augustine, who after finding God spent his life writing his Confessions, which helped form western civilization's philosophy and are still being studied today.

There are ways we can better ourselves, whether it is practicing more humility, finding the love of God even on the bad days, finding joy in others, or even just improving routine intentional prayer. There are always ways we can be more saintly.

My wife's family has a beautiful tradition where each person in the family selects a patron saint. They pick a slip of paper with a saint's name on it from a bowl, then study and ask for the intercession from that saint for the whole year. This allows them to actively educate themselves on saints that they otherwise wouldn't know about. Learning the stories of the saints is a great way to grow not only as a person, but also in our Catholic faith.

If any priest, deacon, religious, lay employee or volunteer of the Diocese of Scranton has cause or reason to suspect that a minor has been subjected to any form of abuse, including child sexual abuse, the matter will be reported to law enforcement.

It is also the policy of the Diocese to adhere to all civil and state regulations. In accordance with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's Child Protective Services Laws, reports of suspected child abuse should also be made immediately by phone to the 24-Hour Child Abuse hot-line (ChildLine) at 1-800-932-0313 or electronically at www.compass.state.pa.us/cwis. This end, the Diocese is equally committed to adhering to the norms of the Code of Canon Law and to upholding the tenets of the USCCB Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People, which includes supporting victims of sexual abuse in their pursuit of emotional and spiritual well-being.

The icon on the cover...depicts Saint Martin de Porres, a humble Dominican brother from Lima, Peru, known for his deep compassion and tireless service to the poor and the sick. He is shown wearing the black and white habit of the Dominican Order, holding a cross as a sign of his faith and a basket of bread symbolizing his generosity and care for those in need.

Saint Martin devoted his life to healing, reconciliation, and charity, welcoming everyone without distinction of race or status. Canonized in 1962, he is the patron saint of social justice, racial harmony, and those who seek to serve others with humility and love. His feast day is celebrated on November 3rd.
