My sponsor is my Uncle Jesus Ramirez I choose him because from all the people I know and have met, he has inspired me to do more than I probably would've in my future, he's done good things and is in a good place and in life and I truly aspire to be like that and be able to be there for my family.

My Saint is ,St. John the Baptist. I picked him for a similar reason like my sponsor as he did great things in his lifetime, My next part about him St. John is he baptized Jesus in the Jordan river and that was a big impact as when Jesus came out the water Heaven opened up and a spirit of God came down said "This is my own dear son with whom I am pleased" and that for Jesus is important as it marks him the Son of God and important for John to as he continued Jesus path and start his ministry.

In many ways over the past years, I feel like my faith has changed a lot, but me as a person too. For a long time as a kid, if I felt like my faith was never strong, I always thought to myself just pray and what I need God to do happens, but as I got older, I learned more about religion. I think it has brought a whole new meaning to my faith. In one way it changed as you do not necessarily get what you pray for but more as to get what you need in life and what else God has planned for my life and others. Apart from my faith and how it changed, I would like to say my grandma helped a lot with the way I see religion. One thing about it is how she taught me that God is not just for what you need, but to protect us and give us his love and the encouragement that we need to get through the tough times in life.

After my confirmation to get truly closer to God I had thought about continuing with the seven sacraments maybe not necessarily Holy Orders, but probably marriage, and if necessary, in my future hopefully not but anointing of the sick differently, mostly to feel assured of my sins in the afterlife and be peaceful in death. But before all that I wouldn't be at the point I am today without my family and grandparents they have always been there for me and, always helped me when my faith was down or life wasn't it at the moment, but through all the hardships and times going to mass and classes that's what brought me here and without all the problems I had encountered I don't think it would have brought me to where I am today.
