

Mrs. Prideaux's Weekly Newsletter for the Week of September 15th, 2025

Reader's Workshop: The students will build their comprehension by focusing on sequencing, story maps, character analysis, and identifying new vocabulary. This week we will be reading "Hattie and Hudson" by Chris Van Dusen.

Math Workshop: The students will be practicing counting by making groups of ten and counting on. They will also use the 120 chart to learn how to add and subtract ten.

Writer's Workshop: The class will be creating their own stories based on book series "If You Give a Mouse a Cookie" by Laura Numeroff.

Religion: The students will be learning about Cain and Abel.

Science: The students will continue to study sharks.

Word Work: The students will identify CVC patterned words while focusing on the short "i" sound.

Have a great weekend!
