Dear second grade parents,

Thank you for joining our parent meeting last night. After a few technology glitches, it went well and I appreciate your taking the time to learn more about the routines and expectations of second grade.

We had a great start to the school year. These children are so adaptable—they have adjusted to some of our new routines and are ready for the academic challenges of second grade.

Next week we will begin our lessons with the new music and Spanish teachers. Mrs. Carlton will also be meeting with some of our second graders.

I hope you enjoy your Labor Day weekend.

Blessings,

Mrs. Knowski
