Stand Firm in the faith, be courageous, be strong

Dear Parents and Students:

Thank you to all the students and parents who attended the Fun Run last week; I am sorry I myself could not attend.

This was our first full academic week, and it seems a good time to remember some basic procedural matters.

If assignments are not handed in the morning when due, the student must attend lunch time study hall, even if somehow they finish up the assignment during the day before then. They will also receive an academic infraction on their honor card.

Assignment notebooks should be completely filled out for each class each day. A description of the assignment (e.g., #1-10 evens on p. 123), date due, and whether the assignment has been completed or not.

Papers should be handed in with a proper heading. Name, Date, Class, Assignment.

Students should be bringing home a Friday folder with their corrected work from that week every ... you guessed it! Friday! It will also usually contain a Friday folder slip which sometimes might have an important message, sometimes not. These slips should be signed by a parent and returned Monday morning.

Students have begun working on JOG! Start gathering those photos of them with their family, doing extracurriculars, etc. Also, I have service hour sheets which are needed to track service hours. If your student needs some, he or she just needs to ask.
