Reflections from the Gloria Dei Choir

Our Lady of Guadalupe Church
Gloria Dei Choir
Bis orat qui bene cantat

For the Second Sunday of Advent, tenor Benjamin Lopez will sing the opening recitative and aria from G.F. Handel's celebrated oratorio Messiah: "Comfort Ye, My People" and "Ev'ry Valley Shall Be Exalted." The text is from Isaiah 40:1-4, which opens our First Reading and quoted by St. Mark in today's Gospel reading: "The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God." Listen for wonderful examples of word painting in the tenor's melodic line, especially in the ascending opening lines of the aria and in the depiction of "the crooked straight and the rough places plain."

During Communion, the choir sings "And the Glory of the Lord" from Messiah. The text is Isaiah 40:5 (also heard in today's First Reading) and foretells the coming of the promised Messiah: "And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it." This is the first chorus in Handel's oratorio and is part of the so-called "Christmas portion" of the work, which is concerned with the fulfillment of prophecy through the birth of Christ. This chorus is noteworthy for the independent writing for each voice part within a lively triple meter that suggests the influence of French dance music on Handel's work.
