Dear Friends,

This weekend we celebrate The Feast of the Baptism of the Lord. We witness Jesus' baptism in the Jordan River, and we see the Holy Spirit descend upon Him like a dove and we hear the voice of the Father say: "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased; listen to Him." This is a point of great transition in the life of Jesus and in the liturgical life of the Church. Jesus begins His public ministry. He is moving out of the "quiet" life of the home in Nazareth and into the unfolding of His active ministry. The years of preparation are at an end and the years of preaching and teaching have begun. Jesus will show Himself to us. He will reveal Himself to the world. In today's Gospel we hear John the Baptist contrast his baptism of repentance with the baptism that Jesus will inaugurate. John the Baptist says that he has baptized with water, but that the one who is to come will baptize with the Holy Spirit. John's baptism was not yet a Christian baptism; it was a preparation for the Christian Baptism we celebrate today, and through which sins are forgiven and the gift of the Holy Spirit is received. In accepting John's baptism, Jesus, though sinless, united himself with all sinners.

The baptism of Jesus is reported in each of the three Synoptic Gospels—Matthew, Mark and Luke. Clearly, Jesus' baptism was an event of great significance for Jesus and for the early Christian community. Mark and Luke report the story from Jesus' perspective; the voice from heaven is addressed to Jesus. In Matthew's Gospel, the voice from heaven speaks to all who are present. The descent of the Holy Spirit on Jesus at his baptism shows that something new is beginning through the baptism and ministry of Jesus. The baptism of Jesus is considered an important manifestation of God in the person of Jesus, another epiphany. Jesus' baptism inaugurates his mission. Mark's Gospel moves quickly from the report of Jesus' baptism to Jesus' temptations in the desert to his ministry in Galilee after John's arrest. The end of the ministry of John the Baptist is the beginning of Jesus' ministry. In an analogous way, our Baptism inaugurates our mission as Christians.

Our liturgies - our Sunday readings and prayers - also take a new turn. In Mass, we will walk with Jesus throughout His public ministry, and we will once again be witnesses to His miracles, we will hear His preaching, and we will experience His compassion and mercy. The joy of Bethlehem constantly expands as we follow Jesus in his encounter with the disciples and His apostles. We renew our own discipleship and deepen our own faith as we remain close to our Lord and meditate upon His words. While this celebration of the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord marks the end of the Christmas season, it also marks the beginning of new time of discipleship with our Lord. It is a new time of grace and of transformation. At Jesus' baptism, our Father in heaven is inviting us, even urging us, to "listen" to His Son. Jesus is inviting us to "Come, follow me." The Holy Spirit, alive in our hearts, is prompting us to great faith, hope, and love. These are the gifts of grace which we first received in our own baptism. Let them be the source of our strength today as we set out with Jesus along the roads of His public Ministry. It is Jesus who will lead us to the fullness of life. Let's listen to Him! Let's follow where He leads.

I encourage all of us this Sunday to recommit ourselves to living a new way of life, to living differently because baptism truly marked a turning point in our lives. Let each of us make this New Year a time in which we increase our faith and our service to the Church and the Community. But today demands that we also remember our own baptisms and the beginnings of our own walks with Christ.

Today, then, becomes the perfect day to get out pictures from everyone's baptisms. Watch the video or get out the old movies. Dig out your Baptismal Candle. Talk to your parents or your Godparents today about your Baptisms. But we cannot forget. We must never forget. We like Christ, were washed clean in the waters of Baptism. Now it is time to live as baptized people, working together in the Church, for the salvation of all people. Our Baptisms not only buy us a whole new way of life, but our Baptisms also get us the job and responsibility of carrying the Good News of Jesus Christ out to many others. Just like for Jesus, following His Baptism, it was time for Him to go to work. So too for us, following this Feast Day, we are reminded that it is time for all of us to go to work, building the Kingdom of God, and bringing His Gospel to every person that we encounter. This is a great day. On this Feast Day, we are sent out to a world that so desperately needs us, just like Jesus was, two-thousand years ago!

May we bear witness to our Baptisms with our lives, not just with our words. May we live out our Faith every day. And may we put into action, Jesus' good news, that we care and get involved!

With prayers,

Fr. Ledoux
