And the first, having married a wife, died childless. ³⁰Likewise the second. ³¹And the third brother married her. And in the same way, all seven died without leaving behind children. ³²Afterward, the woman died as well. ³³The woman, therefore, in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be? For the seven brothers all had her as their wife.” ³⁴And Jesus said to them, “The people who belong to this age marry (gamousin) and are given in marriage (gamizontai), ³⁵but those considered worthy to attain that age and the resurrection from the dead do not marry (gamousin), nor are they given in marriage (gamizontai). ³⁶For they can neither die any longer, for they are equal to the angels, and are children of God, since they are children of the resurrection.”

8. G.K. Chesterton, “The more I considered Christianity, the more I found that while it had established a rule and an order, the chief aim of that order was to give room for good things to run wild.”

Touch me and see, because a spirit does not have flesh and bones, as you see I have." 40 When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his feet. 41 And while they were still disbelieving because of their joy and amazed, he said to them, "Do you have something to eat here?" 42 They gave to him part of a roasted fish, 43 and he ate it in their presence.

11. First Corinthians 15:20-26

20 But now Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who sleep. 21 For since death came through a human being, the resurrection of the dead has also come through a human being; 22 for as all die in Adam, so all will be made alive in Christ. 23 But each in his own order: Christ the first fruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. 24 Then comes the consummation, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father, after he has destroyed every ruler and every authority and power. 25 For he must reign as king until he has put all his enemies under his feet. 26 The last enemy to be destroyed is death.
