ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Welcome to St. Mary's Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception

Since its dedication in 1926, St. Mary's Cathedral has stood as the mother church of the Archdiocese of Portland in Oregon. The cathedral belongs to the 400,000 Catholics of the archdiocese and serves as a place of ceremony and celebration for those who come here. The cathedral is also a parish church, and as such it is home to its parishioners and a welcoming place for all visitors. You may have noticed the beautiful rose design on our doors as you came in. This rose represents Mary, Our Blessed Mother, as well as Portland, the City of Roses.

All Are Welcome!

Please Consider a Charitable Bequest to St. Mary's Cathedral in your estate planning.

St. Mary's Cathedral Parish Mission

St. Mary's Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception is a community of Christians in the Roman Catholic Tradition. Inspired by the Holy Spirit, and through the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary, we continue the mission of Jesus Christ through liturgy, prayer, education and service toward our neighbor. As the cathedral of the Archdiocese of Portland, and as a parish community, we offer hospitality to all visitors, celebrate archdiocesan events and witness the joy of the Gospel to the City of Portland.

A WORD FROM THE PASTOR

Last week I introduced Pope Francis's new encyclical entitled Fratelli Tutti, "all brothers and sisters." The encyclical asks, and addresses, this question: what are the great ideals but also the tangible ways to advance for those who wish to build a more just and fraternal world in their ordinary relationships, in social life, in politics, and in institutions? Pope Francis describes his encyclical as a "social encyclical," and the title comes from St. Francis, who used the words "fratelli tutti" to address "all brothers and sisters."

Last week we examined the first two of eight chapters in the encyclical. Analysts say that if we can grasp the first two chapters of the encyclical the rest will fall into place for us. Chapter One, called "Dark Clouds," paints a grim but realistic picture of the current social problems facing our culture. Chapter Two, called "The Good Samaritan," begins to address the current ills by reminding us that, like the Good Samaritan, we are to be good neighbors to each other, overcoming prejudices, personal interests, and historic and cultural barriers. We must recognize Christ in the face of every marginalized person.

Chapter Three opens with these words: "Human beings are so made that they cannot live, develop, and find fulfilment except in the sincere gift of self to others." The Holy Father encourages us to go "outside the self" in order to find a "fuller existence in another." The social, loving dimension of human life is universal, natural, and essential. Our love for each other creates a dynamism of charity that impels us to "universal communion . . . and the ability to accept others . . . in a greater sense of mutual belonging."

This movement toward solidarity does not eliminate our differences; rather, it celebrates the beauty of our diversity.

As a communion of peoples, the right to live with dignity cannot be denied to anyone. Rights have no borders, and no one can be excluded regardless of where they are born. This leads us to consider "an ethics of international relations," recognizing that the goods of every territory cannot be denied to those in need and who come from another place. In light of shared goods, nations must provide "sufficient opportunities" for the integral development of their people. Though controversial, Pope Francis states that rights to private property are derived from the universal destination of goods and therefore are subordinate to it. Such thinking is not common these days, he notes; but "if we accept the great principle that there are rights born of inalienable human dignity, we can rise to the challenge of envisaging a new humanity."

Chapter Four ("A Heart Open to the Whole World") recognizes the plight of immigrants as an opportunity to care for our brothers and sisters in need. In sum, "Our response to the arrival of migrating persons can be summarized by four words: welcome, protect, promote and integrate." We'll conclude our review of Fratelli Tutti next week.

30TH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

OCTOBER 25, 2020

Entrance Antiphon

Let the hearts that seek the Lord rejoice; turn to the Lord and his strength; constantly seek his face.

Opening Hymn

For the fruits of this creation, Thanks be to God;
For the gifts of ev'ry nation, Thanks be to God.
For the plowing, sowing, reaping, Silent growth while we are sleeping, Future needs in earth's safe keeping, Thanks be to God.

In the just reward of labor, God's will be done; In the help we give our neighbor, God's will be done; In the world-wide task of caring For the hungry and despairing, In the harvests we are sharing, God's will be done.

Gloria

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you, we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, only begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

First Reading Ex 22:20-26

Thus says the LORD: "You shall not molest or oppress an alien, for you were once aliens yourselves in the land of Egypt. You shall not wrong any widow or orphan. If ever you wrong them and they cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry. My wrath will flare up, and I will kill you with the sword; then your own wives will be widows, and your children orphans.

"If you lend money to one of your poor neighbors among my people, you shall not act like an extortioner toward him by demanding interest from him. If you take your neighbor's cloak as a pledge, you shall return it to him before sunset; for this cloak of his is the only covering he has for his body. What else has he to sleep in? If he cries out to me, I will hear him; for I am compassionate."

Responsorial:

I love you, Lord, my strength.

Second Reading 1 Thes 1:5c-10

Brothers and sisters: You know what sort of people we were among you for your sake. And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, receiving the word in great affliction, with joy from the Holy Spirit, so that you became a model for all the believers in Macedonia and in Achaia. For from you the word of the Lord has sounded forth not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but in every place your faith in God has gone forth, so that we have no need to say anything. For they themselves openly declare about us what sort of reception we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God and to await his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus, who delivers us from the coming wrath.

Gospel Mt 22:34-40

When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together, and one of them, a scholar of the law tested him by asking, "Teacher, which commandment in the law is the greatest?" He said to him, "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. The second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. The whole law and the prophets depend on these two commandments."

Creed

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven,

At the words that follow, up to and including and became man, all bow and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Offertory/Communion Hymn

At the Lamb's high feast we sing Praise to our victorious King, He has washed us in the tide Flowing from his open side; Praise we him, whose love divine Gives his sacred Blood for wine, Gives his Body for the feast, Christ the victim, Christ the priest.

Where the Paschal blood is poured, Death's dark angel sheathes his sword; Israel's hosts triumphant go, Through the wave that drowns the foe. Praise we Christ, whose blood was shed, Paschal victim, Paschal bread; With sincerity and love Eat we manna from above.

Communion Antiphon

We will ring out our joy at your saving help and exult in the name of our God.

Closing Hymn

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow; Praise him, all creatures here below; Praise him above, ye heav'nly host; Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

From all that dwell below the skies Let the Creator's praise arise! Let the Redeemer's name be sung Through ev'ry land by ev'ry one.

Eternal are thy mercies, Lord, and truth eternal is thy word; Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore Till suns shall rise and set no more.
