

40 Days for Life Saves

We are sharing the articles below from two separate 40 Days for Life Campaigns. The lives of two babies were saved during these campaigns. Not only were the babies saved, but so were the lives of the mothers. These mothers will not be tortured by a memory they can never erase!

Studies show that when women abort their child, they are very likely to have mental health issues. Some even become suicidal. Please continue praying and giving moms the support they need. Women come back to thank those praying for helping them choose life. Never do we have someone come back and say they regret choosing life.

Sarasota, Florida Nine months ago, prayer warriors at Sarasota's 40 Days for Life 365 campaign engaged an abortion-bound mom. The conversation went well and ended with a visit to the local pregnancy help center. Last week, that mom returned to Planned Parenthood...to show off her baby to prayer warriors. "I came so close to aborting my baby that day," the proud mother said. "Please don't stop doing what you do!"

Not only that, but the woman is also interested in getting involved in pro-life efforts to serve others just as she was served.

Former Planned Parenthood manager turned 40 Days for Life outreach director Ramona Trevino joined the Sarasota team for TWO kickoff events--one in Spanish and one in English.

The English event was a daylong conference that drew 75 people. "It was an absolutely beautiful day," reported one attendee.

Thousand Oaks, California Sarasota wasn't the only campaign to get a visit from a baby saved from abortion.

When a mother took the first pill to abort her little boy, the Thousand Oaks 40 Days for Life team worked with the child's grandmother to connect Mom with Abortion Pill Reversal.

The reversal worked! And grandma brought her grandson to the Thousand Oaks 40 Days for Life commencement event, where a priest dedicated the child to God.

"The Holy Spirit anointed us all," wrote Leonore, the local campaign leader.
