

MaryAnne Muglia studied Choral Music Education at Northern Arizona University, and has been involved with Catholic Music Ministry since 2010, traveling on Mission Trips and playing Masses with her father. In 2013-2014 she lead Masses at All Saints Catholic Newman Center in Tempe, and after moving to Flagstaff in 2015, she became the Music Director at the Holy Trinity Catholic Newman Center.

Bringing with her a background as a trained pianist, singer, and choral music director, Ms. Muglia has a wealth of musical knowledge and is dedicated to upholding the integrity of music in Catholic worship. In addition, she has performed and collaborated with many contemporary published Catholic artists, such as Chris Muglia, Jaime Cortez, Tom Booth, Tim Smith, and Matt Maher. Growing up in a contemporary parish, and receiving classical training and classes on the history of music in the Church in college, she has an ability to bring authenticity to contemporary and traditional styles. MaryAnne Muglia is thrilled to be a part of such an active and growing community here at All Saints.
