APOLOGETICS

1. Do both men and women have the right to be ordained in the Catholic Church?

- In the Catholic Church only men are ordained. However this is not a right, but a call. In following the example of Jesus, the Church does not consider itself authorized to ordain women. 2. Why don’t priests of the Latin Rite marry?

- Priests of the Latin Rite live a celibate life for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. They give themselves completely to the Lord and the affairs of the Lord. They serve Christ with an undivided heart, dedicating themselves more freely and completely to their priestly ministry.
  (CCC 1579)
MATRIMONY

Theme 9: A Covenant of Love

Matrimony is the intimate partnership of married life and love instituted by God Himself when he created Adam and Eve. “God created man in His image: in the divine image he created him; male and female he created them. God blessèd them, saying; ‘Be fertile and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it.’” (CCC 1601; Gn 1:27-28)

MESSAGE

1. What is matrimony?

   ➢ Christ raised marriage to the dignity of a sacrament through which a baptized man and a baptized woman join themselves for life in a lawful marriage. This marriage is a covenant of love and a partnership for life for the procreation and education of children and for the mutual fulfillment of husband and wife. (CCC 1601)

2. How is marriage a covenant?

   ➢ As an agreement to be faithful to one another for life, marriage is a covenant. It mirrors the nuptial covenant of God with Israel and of Christ with redeemed humanity. (CCC 1612, 1660, 1662)
3. What is the purpose of matrimony?

- The purpose of matrimony is twofold: the mutual love and communion of husband and wife, and the generation and proper upbringing of children.

  (CCC 1601, 1660; Eph 5:25, 32-33; 6:4)

4. Does Christian marriage have yet another dimension?

- Christian marriage is a sacred sign recalling the perpetual love of Christ and His Church.
  (CCC 1617, 1641-1642)

5. How are consecrated virginity and marriage related?

- Consecrated virginity and marriage are both gifts of God. They are complementary and inseparable signs of His love. (CCC 1618-1620)

6. When does a Catholic receive the Sacrament of Matrimony?

- A Catholic receives the Sacrament of Matrimony when he or she marries in the Church or with the Church’s permission. (CCC 1621, 1623)
7. What is necessary to receive the Sacrament of Matrimony worthily?

- It is necessary to be free from serious sin, to know and understand the duties of married life, and to obey the laws of the Church concerning marriage. (CCC 1622)

8. Why is it encouraged to wed at a nuptial Mass?

- So that the couple will seal their mutual self-offering within the celebration of Christ’s self-offering for the Church. By receiving Holy Communion they receive the Body and Blood of Christ and truly form “one body” in the Lord. (CCC 1621)

9. What is the “sign” of matrimony?

- The sign of matrimony is the exchange of vows to love and be loyal to one another for a lifetime. (CCC 1623, 1662)

10. How is matrimony given?

- The indispensable aspect of matrimony is the free and lawful exchange of consent. (CCC 1623-1627)
11. Who acts for Jesus in matrimony?

- In the Latin Church, the man and woman who are receiving matrimony give the sacrament to each other. The priest or deacon witnesses the sacrament and gives the couple God’s blessing. In the Eastern rites, the priest is the minister of the sacrament.
  (CCC 1623, 1626-1630)

12. Who may receive the Sacrament of Matrimony?

- To receive the sacrament of Matrimony a person must be baptized, freely consent and not already be married. The person must follow the marriage laws of the Church.
  (CCC 1625)

13. How should Catholics prepare for marriage?

- Suitable instruction about marriage, living a good Christian life, prayer and receiving the sacraments can help prepare one for marriage.
  (CCC 1632)

14. Why does the Church make laws regulating marriage?

- Because the Church has authority from Christ over all the sacraments and other spiritual matters that affect baptized persons.
  (CCC 1631)

➢ After the death of one’s spouse, a person is free to enter into Matrimony again.

➢ It creates a permanent, irrevocable bond and confers on the couple the special grace of this sacrament.
   (CCC 1638-1642)

17. Why is the marriage bond unbreakable?

➢ Because marriage is a covenant, it calls for a total commitment, not a temporary one. It mirrors God’s ever faithful love. (CCC 614-1616, 1640, 1643-1646; Mt 19: 4-6)

APologetics

1. Who instituted marriage?

➢ God instituted marriage by creating human beings, both male and female, in His own image which is love. Mutual love and procreation are essential aspects of the nature of man and woman. The Scriptural account of Genesis confirms this.
   (CCC 1602-1605; Gn 2:18, 24)
2. What did Christ do for marriage?

- Marriage has been taken up into redemption that Christ won for us. The Church sees in Christ’s presence at the wedding in Cana his intention to sacramentalize marriage, that is to make it “an efficacious sign” of his presence which “signifies and communicates grace.”
  (CCC 1608,1612-1613. 1617; Jn 2:1-11)
SACRAMENTALS

Theme 10: God’s Sacred Signs to Help Us Make Various Occasions in Life Holy

Sacramentals are “sacred signs which bear a resemblance to the sacraments. They signify effects, especially of a spiritual nature, which are obtained through the intercession of the Church.” They can dispose us to receive the chief effects of the sacraments, and to make holy various occasions in life. (CCC 1667-1668)

MESSAGE

1. What are sacramentals?

3. Which blessings are obtained through sacraments?

- God’s graces and blessings, the forgiveness of venial sins, spiritual strength and comfort, and sometimes health and other material blessings, if this is according to God’s will.

- Sacramentals are instituted by the Church, while the sacraments were instituted by Christ. (CCC 1670)

5. Why did the Church institute sacramentals?

- To add more dignity to the ritual of the sacraments.

6. What is the basis for sacramentals?

- The basis for sacramentals is our own baptism by which we receive the baptismal priesthood. God calls us to be a “blessing” and to bless. (CCC 1669; 1 Pt 3:9)

7. What are the principal sacramentals?

- The principal sacramentals are the liturgical year and the public prayer of the Church, the Liturgy of the Hours.
8. What are some other types of sacramentals?

- The blessing of persons, places and objects; blessings which consecrate persons to God or reserve places and objects for liturgical use, such as religious profession or the consecration of an altar; exorcisms for the removal of evil spirits.
  (CCC 1669, 1671-1674)

9. Which are some actions that are sacramentals?

11. Do blessed objects bring good luck?

- Blessed objects should never be considered good luck. Christians do not believe in luck or magic.

12. What is holy water?

- Holy water, or water blessed by a priest, is a sacramental which reminds us of our baptism and our commitment to live the Christian life. We find it in fonts at the entrances of churches and make the sign of the cross with it upon entering and leaving church. (CCC 1668)

APOLOGETICS

1. Why does the Catholic Church offer the use of sacramentals to its people?

- The Church offers the use of sacramentals because the church teaches that God calls us to be a “blessing” and to bless. (CCC 1669; 1 Pt 3:9)

2. Why do Catholics use sacramentals?

- Catholics enjoy the use of sacramentals because of the devotion that the object, action or word inspires. (CCC 1670)
