

Palm Sunday
Sunday, March 25, 2018

Have you ever felt discouraged and down and out? Nothing seems to be working as you thought it would, even though you have a strong belief that God is guiding you?

Today's first reading gives a clear picture of how Isaiah had done everything right with the help of God and still saw no results. Despite that, he reaffirmed he would continue on.

In the same way, our Lord, thru the Passion, was just like Isaiah. He knew he had done what he came to do and still had every possible negative outcome. Yet he knew he was doing what the Father had guided him to do and continued to the end.

You have the same Father that both Isaiah and Our Lord had. Remaining focused on the big picture outcomes during your lifetime, will allow you to accomplish the work that God has set before you.

Mike De Witt