

Haiti - House #137 Maryse Bazard

Maryse Bazard is 57. She has been existing with her 6 children (3 girls and 3 boys) in the pitiful place you see in the “before” picture. Things were difficult before but after the horrible Hurricane Matthew hit in October 2016, the place she called home has deteriorated much more. She has been struggling to survive with her children under this blue tarp that some organization gave her. To sustain herself, she does some gardening and has a little stand by the airstrip where she sells items like candies, chips, etc...She goes to church as regularly as she can and has been praying for a very long time that God could somehow help her get out of her misery. Her prayer has finally been answered. She sends her joyful and heartfelt gratitude to all who have made this miracle happen in her life and that of her family.
