

Haiti - House #145 Fricot Jean Louis Family

Fricot Jean Louis and Adèle Lubin had eight children. They now live in the pitiful place you see in the "before" picture with two of their children and three grand children. They are farmers. Adèle also has a little stand where she sells vegetables and other items. She often uses her donkey to go to Bonbon and Jeremie markets in order to sell some of her merchandise. Fricot often walks the four or five miles to church on Sunday from where he lives. They have been waiting years for their "deliverance" from the misery in which fate had placed them. They send their prayers and grateful thanksgiving for all who helped in any way to make this impossible dream a reality.
