

Haiti – House #152 Christline and Bruns Bazard

Christline and Bruns Bazard have five children, four girls and one son. They are hard working farmers that have been severely impacted by Hurricane Matthew in October 2016. The place they call home in the “before” picture is still covered by a tarpaulin that they received from USAID after the storm. The burden of raising the family falls primarily on Christline since Bruns has some mental challenges. In spite of all this they are happy and hopeful that the Almighty and Loving God will somehow take care of them. Their prayer was answered in May 2019 when they received the new, secure, dry and beautiful home you see in the “after” picture. They send their thanks and sincere appreciation to all who have made this possible.
