

Haiti - House #162 Dume' Maginet

Dume' Maginet and his wife Ketura take care of their nephew and godson in the place you see in the before picture. Ketura is expecting her first baby. She is twenty-eight and just graduated from school being trained as an elementary education teacher. Dume is a carpenter that was trained working with the HMI construction team. They are active members of the church parish. Because of their hard work and commitment to taking care of these orphan children, the selection committee was happy to encourage their efforts building them a decent house. They send their prayerful thanks and heartfelt appreciation to all who have helped to make this possible.
