

Haiti – House #164 Dorismond family

Jean Daniel Dorismond and his wife, Widly Vincent are a young, hardworking couple shown in the “Before” picture with 2 of their 3 children. He is a carpenter who does some farming and works as a security agent for a company in Jeremie. His wife helps him with the family farming, selling some of the products from their garden whenever she can. Jean Daniel is a faithful Catholic who comes to Our Lady of the Assumption church every Sunday. (His wife Widly is of a different faith and goes regularly to her church also.) They have been praying fervently that Almighty God could somehow get them out of the dilapidated and crumbling shack they have had to call home and get them into a safer, stronger and drier home. It was with great joy and rejoicing that they welcomed the news of being chosen to experience a more decent life in a new and better house in October 2019. They send their heartfelt gratitude and thanks to all who helped to make this happen in their lives.
