

Haiti – House #184 The Joseph Family

Jimmy Joseph (in the black “T” shirt in the “before” picture) is 54. He has three children but now lives with one of them and a cousin in the especially pitiful situation you see in the “before” picture. His wife is living in Port-au-Prince with the other two children but hopes to come back with one of Jimmy’s sisters when they have a better place to live. They all do farming for a living. Although Jimmy suffers from alcohol addiction, the new home should allow the family to be reunited and hopefully give them hope and dignity which can help him heal from his addiction. The Joseph family lives in Bec’s s/d. When they were notified that God had blessed them through the intercession of Rebecca Claire with a new home in the month of her birthday, they rejoiced and were so thankful. They send their grateful thanksgiving and assurances of prayers for all those who have brought about this miracle in their lives.
