

Haiti - House #216 The Fandan Family

Fandan Hotès and Berthose Pierre have been living together with their three children in the dilapidated shack you see in the “before” picture, pieced together with old tin, rotten tarpaulins and stick slats. Fandan is a barber and also does farming. His wife, Berthose, does a little commerce, selling produce in Jeremie and also works as a domestic in Jeremie. They are Catholics and come regularly to church in good weather and bad, always praying that one day the miracle of a new HMI home could happen in their lives. Fandan serves as an usher at church. The family lives in the extension of Bec's s/d up the mountain towards Debarasse in the community of Kavin. Because of the terrible condition of the road passing by their place, the HMI construction team was reluctant to go there. After much consideration, they decided to do whatever it takes to build them the new home you see in the “after” picture. They send their deepest gratitude and assurance of prayers for all the donors and their families that contributed to make this seemingly impossible task come true.
