

House # 27 – Marie Louise

Mrs. Marie Louise and several of her grandsons live with her. All the dads and moms of the grandsons have died or disappeared for one reason or the other. At the time of the construction of her home in March 2014, her one daughter that was still alive was very sick in Port-au-Prince. Of special note, Mrs. Marie Louise is the local herbal doctor. Several times over the years someone on the mission team has had a skin ailment of some type and Mrs. Marie Louise would walk off into the jungle and come back with a leaf that would bring about remarkable relief. She is also very faithful to her church community. Unfortunately the construction team tore her house down before we got a picture of the pitiful place she was in. Suffice it to say that it didn't take the men long to knock it down and turn the slab that it was built on into the rubble you see behind her and her grandsons'. As you can imagine, she is ecstatic about receiving this miracle of a new house. She's so proud of it. She told in confidence as it was being completed that she feels dignified and loved. Thanks for all the sacrifices everyone made to make this possible.
