

House# 63 - Pauline Lubin

Pauline Lubin lives in the remote village of Ravine Sable in the direction of the community of Nan Champay about ten miles west of Jeremie. She has two children of her own and lives with 2 grand children and a daughter in law. She is catholic and comes regularly to mass when it is held at the St. Bridget school in Ravine Sable. Her hut shown in the “before” picture speaks by itself of her whole situation. She survives from the products of her little garden and some little help she receives from her nearby son. By Christmas 2015, because of the gracious gift of an HMI benefactor, the nightmare that she has been living in during torrential rains and other storms will be over.
