

House # 67 – The Dominique Family

Misery has separated this family for several years now since hurricane Sandy wreaked destruction on the already pitiful place that the Dominiques called home. Mr. and Mrs. Dominique live in what you see as the “before” pictures with one or two of the children and had to scatter the remainder of their five children with relatives and friends who were not much better off. Making it even more challenging is that one of the children is mentally challenged. The Dominiques are subsistence farmers who work hard to keep their family and their lives together. It is with great joy that through the generosity and commitment of HMI donors we are able to reunite this family by building them a new, safe and sturdy dwelling where they will be able to live with dignity and hope.
