

Villiaume House

The Villiaume family had been trying to repair an old hut that was past any hope of repairing. Mr. Villiaume is a hard working individual who took pride in his garden, his community and his church. A Christmas gift from a caring individual in the US truly became a gift that will keep on giving this family protection against storms and earthquakes as well as better health for the children.

