

Well # 45 – Caracolie Orphanage

The Caracolie Orphanage is located not too far from the Sacred Heart Church high up on one of the mountains overlooking the city of Jeremie. HMI had tried to help Sr. Raymonde and her nuns several years ago by drilling a well but they were never able to find the funds to put in a pump. Without being pumped, unfortunately the well failed and became useless. They have now received funding sufficient to drill another well and buy a pump. HMI is delighted to be able to help them once again and by the grace of God, this time the project will end up with the orphanage having a permanent source of good potable water.
