

REDEEMER BOOK CLUB Ideas 2021-2022

DATE	TITLE	AUTHOR	THEME	DISCUSSION LEADER
September 9 th	The Silent Patient	Alex Michaelides	Psychological murder mystery with a focus upon mental health. 352 pages
October 21 st	A Man Called Ove	Fredrik Backman	Accepting people as they are. A novel of a grumpy old man and his unlikely friendship. 337 pages
November 11 th	The Midnight Library: A Novel	Matt Haig	This story explores life decisions and regret through a mythical library full of books that tell what might have been. 304 pages
January 20 th	Caste: The Origins of our Discontent	Isabel Wilkerson	Racism in America: points to our social structure as an unrecognized caste system 496 pages
February 17 th	Still Life	Louise Penney	What murder dislodges in a community, with a faith connection 312 pages
March 17 th	Homegoing	Yaa Gyasi	A multigenerational family story beginning two half-sisters from Ghana. One was sold into slavery, while the other lived free. 313 pages
April 21 st	The Lost Apothecary	Sarah Penner	Women struggling to survive in a world built by men for men in 18 th Century London. 320 pages
May 19 th	The Invention of Wings	Sue Monk Kidd	This historical fiction novel tells the story of Sarah Grinke, a South Carolina abolitionist and feminist. 400 pages
	 Non-fiction			