

Happy New Year!

Every year people make New Years resolutions or at the very least they reflect on the past year and think about how they would like to change this new year in from of them.

How would you like to begin the year putting your marriage first? Making time for each other rather than giving to them the time that is left over? How about planning a date night and giving each other some much needed alone time and something to look forward to all week.

How about gathering with other couples at the beginning of the night to talk about how God sees marriage and not how society sees marriage. Then heading off on a date for the rest of the evening with your spouse.

Give each other 6 Friday evenings to reconnect, grow closer, and strengthen your marriage, how is that for a New Years resolution?

Beginning Friday, January 11 at 5:30 for discussion and social hour, then off to date night at 6:30. We will gather January 11, 18, 25, February 1, 8, and finish on February 15.
