Dear Friends (and Easter Guests!):

There is never a year when we don't need Easter, but I'm thinking that the aches and angers, the disappointments and fears that crowd in to our lives at the moment might make this a particularly necessary time to remember how the Big Story is promised to end. God is the director of the drama of history, after all, and while we each have an essential role to play in it we do not have the ability to thwart God's intention for the ultimate glory of everything He has made. The perennial temptation is to forget that, or to despair of it, and some aspects of current events make that temptation seem more threatening than usual. The violence, greed, indifference to the poor and immigrant, racism, fracturing of family life and social polarization are enough to make us question where things really are going. So let's not lose sight of the fact that the story of Easter begins in a graveyard, amid cries of lament and the confrontation with death itself. It was about the bleakest possible stage set for the greatest divine gift ever. And the story is not merely about restored life or going back to some imagined "good old days," either for Jesus in Galilee or for us in the 1950s. God had already shown us in the Book of Genesis that he is quite capable to creating life out of nothing. Easter is more than that. It shows God creating GLORIFIED life—life like His very own—from that "merely" human life that had once lived and was now appearing to be dead in the tomb. That's the astonishing promise of Easter faith: We will not simply be resuscitated and planted back here on planet Earth, as Jesus did for his friend Lazarus in the gospel. That's pretty impressive too, but it's a hope and an outcome that is too modest for Easter. Instead, like Jesus himself, when we awaken from our graves we "be like God, for we shall see Him as He is, and we shall live with Him forever" (to paraphrase from the Eucharistic prayer that is uttered at every Catholic funeral mass). Who can dare to dream of such ecstasy as our end, especially when our setting-off point can seem so vulnerable and small?

Two weeks ago brought about the death of Dr. Steven Hawking, the internationally renowned and brilliant theoretical physicist from Great Britain and one of the world's most famous atheists. When he spoke about matters of faith he said that the basic reason for his non-belief in God boiled down to his scientific conviction that "God" is a needless theory in the explanation of cosmological activity. If all one means by "God" is such an explanation, then I guess I can understand his disposition. But I and most people of faith I know are not persuaded to know and worship God because He is the answer to our questions about quantum physics. Hawking was more right about the Christian proclamation about God than maybe even he knew. It has always been Christian belief that God is not "necessary" to anything created outside of God's self. Or, to say it better, God could and would remain fully and happily God even if He had never created a thing, like us. Which makes it all the more amazing that God not only presided over the mechanical and biological forces that brought about and still sustain the universe, but that God has—in Jesus—chosen to come near and to live with and to love us as a Person. So I suppose that if one finds love to be "unnecessary" then God can be dispensable to one's scientific evaluation of reality. But there is no true God who can be considered prior to and apart from Love itself. Whatever "god" it was that Hawking thought he was rejecting is not the God in whom we place our faith. And Easter is the day on which to rejoice and to be amazed again at the lengths to which God is willing to go in order to show that to us. Resurrection!

The purpose of "raising" the matter of Dr. Hawking here is not to dishonor the deceased when he can no longer fend for himself here. It is to, as one of our parishioners commented to me last week, rejoice in the fact that he will be the most happy and astonished person at Heaven's gates this weekend.

Encounter the Risen Christ

We prayed, fasted and gave alms—and now we celebrate Easter joy! Our Lenten journey with CRS Rice Bowl ends as we encounter our Risen Lord. We reflect on our brothers and sisters we have walked with, and we commit to bringing Easter joy to each person we meet in our daily lives. Don't forget to turn in your CRS Rice Bowl in the Commons before or after mass, or drop off in the parish office.

Women’s Book Club—Special Event

Monday, April 9 at 6:30 PM in Broschi Hall

Have you ever thought about coming to the St. Pascals Women's Book Club? You won't want to miss it this month!

C.K. MacDonald is the pen name for the mother-daughter writing team of Cecelia MacDonald and Kathryn Scheerman of Mendota Heights. They will be joining us to discuss Running the Cobblestones, their first novel. Set in Ireland, the story celebrates the importance of steadfast neighbors as Kate McMahon, a disgraced American widow, cobbles together a new beginning on the “auld sod.”

Fellowship with the authors is at 6:30 PM followed by the author-led book discussion from 7:00-8:00. To RSVP please call the parish office at 774.1585 or email teresavoeller@gmail.com.

(Next month’s discussion, May 14 is on The Secret Garden by Frances Hodgson Burnett.)

Parish Thank You

Cub Scout Troop 294 appreciates everyone who supported them at the Pancake Breakfast. Funds raised through the breakfast go to pay for activities and awards throughout the year. Thank you!

Catch the Dream

6th Annual St. Mary’s Mission Gala

Thursday, April 26 at 7:00 PM in Broschi Hall

“We have dreams, but who will interpret them...surely interpretations come from God.”

Adapted from Genesis 40:8

Order of the Evening

How to Read the Bible as a Catholic with Deacon Richard Moore

RESCHEDULED!
Thursday, May 10 in Brioschi Hall
10:00 AM-12 Noon AND 7:00-9:00 PM
Choose the time that works for you!

Catholics of the world were encouraged by the bishops at Vatican II to read the Bible.
"The sacred synod also earnestly and especially urges all the Christian faithful...to learn by frequent reading of the divine Scriptures the "excellent knowledge of Jesus Christ" (Phil. 3:8). For ignorance of the Scriptures is ignorance of Christ." (Dei Verbum).
So how do we go about reading the Bible? What Bible should I get? Is the Bible myth or history? What books are in the Bible? Old Testament, New Testament?
Why are there more books in a Catholic Bible? We will explore these questions and more along with methods the Catholic Church uses to understand and interpret the Holy Word of God.

Please contact the parish office by May 8 if you plan to attend so we can prepare appropriately for hospitality. Or sign up online at www.stpascals.org/parish-news.

Heart Questions
Made new by Christ

Clean out the old yeast so that you may be a new batch, as you really are unLeavened. For our paschal lamb, Christ, has been sacrificed.

1 Corinthians 5:7

Adults: What change could the hope of the resurrection of Christ inspire you to make?
Kids: How will you celebrate Easter today and in the weeks to come?

Peaceful Presence Silent Meditation and Prayer

April 11 and every second Wednesday from 10:30-11:30 AM

Do you have a desire to take some quality time away from the phones, computers, TVs, faxes and iPads to listen to the still, small stirrings of the Holy Spirit? Join us in the St. John's Chapel for silent prayer and meditation. We are asking our neighbors from all the East Side congregations to join us in this time of peaceful prayer. Please ask your neighbors to join us!

A Pilgrim Again

The months have flown by since I started at St. Pascal's. I have been blessed to serve this wonderful community and hope for many more years of connection.

As many of you know, I walked the Camino in Spain last year for over one million steps. The blessings of this walk have been innumerable, and I yearned to return to the land of ancient churches and great red wine. Affordable airfare along with a fabulous pastor who gave the OK for three weeks away mean that I am a pilgrim again on the sacred path!

This year’s trek starts in Santiago, passes through “the end of the earth” (Finisterre), north to Muxia and back to Santiago—a mere 120 miles. I leave Easter Sunday and will return on April 21—the day this parish community celebrates Friends & Family. I will try to take you all with me—check the parish Facebook page for photos and short musings along the way.

I pray you all have a wonderful, blessed Easter celebration,
Theresa

Listening House

St. Pascal's supports the Eastside Listening House dubbed “the living room of the homeless” by donating socks, underwear & coffee cups. Please place these items in the marked boxes in the donation closet. This is an ongoing ministry of the Women's Club—thank you for your generous support.
Go Forth

O God, source of all joy, your majesty has been proclaimed throughout all of creation in the dying and rising of your Son, Jesus. Today, we celebrate his victory, his triumph over darkness and death; and rejoice in the gift of new life. Like Mary of Magdala, grant us joyful hearts that go forth announcing salvation. Instill within us a deep faith and an intense love. On this Easter day, filled with wonder, help us to know your Son more intimately so that, filled with the Holy Spirit, we may forever proclaim the enduring love poured out on all.

Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Sunday, April 1, 2018

Good News

As the trumpets sounded the introduction to the Alleluia at the Easter Vigil one year, Christ’s triumph over death and sin was truly present to me; the reality that God’s love saves me set in and tears of joy filled my eyes. How could I be loved so much? As the congregation’s Alleluia broke the silence of the Triduum, I asked, “How can we not rejoice and sing with all creation at God’s marvelous gift?” Think of a time when your Easter joy flooded you. What did you come to know about Christ, about the Resurrection and your life?

The mystery of the Resurrection is hard to comprehend, but this is truly the day that the Lord has made. All creation shouts with a profound joy in exultation to our loving God, who, in his kindness, gave his Son that we might live. This is the fulfillment of the covenant promised to Noah and Abraham and all our ancestors. Many of us will gather around a table to share a meal with family and friends. Like the Eucharist, keep in mind that this is the feast of joy; a feast where the Church not only gives thanks and praise, but also learns what it means to live in the light. The suffering and challenges of Lent make way to a new life, in which we are called to serve the poor and marginalized and to proclaim the Good News. During the Octave of Easter, strive to eat a festive meal as a family each evening.
Monday, April 2
Good News

Today’s Gospel picks up right after the two Marys encounter the angels at the empty tomb. These faithful women hurried to share the news with the others. If we have truly seen and heard the Good News of Jesus’ Resurrection, then why wouldn’t we also go forth to tell of God’s salvation? Imagine yourself meeting these two on their way to share the news. What would they say to you? How would you respond? Write a note of Good News to a friend.

Tuesday, April 3
Mary at the Tomb

John’s Gospel presents another telling of Mary Magdalene at the tomb. It’s a bit more somber than yesterday and you can hear the sorrow that fills Mary’s heart. When she finally recognizes Jesus, she goes to tell the others that she has seen him. Like Mary, we must witness to others. Like Peter in Acts, we invite others to hear the story and come to know Jesus more intimately. For your prayer before meals, sing your favorite “Alleluia” in praise to God.

Wednesday, April 4
Hearts Burning

The story of the road to Emmaus captures a scene soon after the Resurrection account. Think about who introduced you to Jesus. When Christ is present in our lives, our hearts should burn with joy. This joy overflows and propels us to share the Good News to the ends of the earth. Break bread at dinner tonight and talk about the joy of the Lord in your life.

Thursday, April 5
Peace Be with You

It’s easy to imagine the fear the disciples had immediately after the death of Christ. They believed he was the Savior and yet, he had been killed. The encounters with Christ after the Resurrection help his followers understand more fully God’s plan. The Messiah came as a servant who gave himself so that others might have life. In the Gospel, Jesus offers the disciples peace and attempts to calm them. Think about ways you can bear the light of peace in your family and community.

Friday, April 6
Eucharist

In this third encounter with Jesus, the disciples share a meal with him after a night of fishing. As with the Emmaus reading, Jesus is revealed in the breaking of the bread. At every Mass, the Risen Christ is made known to us in the breaking and sharing of bread. The Eucharist provides the nourishment we need to go forth, “fish” for people, and share the news of salvation. Where else do you see Christ present? Invite a friend to lunch today.

Saturday, April 7
Proclamation

In the First Reading, we hear that, despite the elders’ warning, Peter and John continue to speak of Jesus. The truth they experienced in the person of Christ is undeniable and filled with love. To continue Christ’s work and build up the Kingdom, they are committed to sharing the Good News with any person they encounter. As an Easter people, we must fervently share the Gospel. Make it a point to get to know one of the neophytes in the parish and hear their story of encountering Christ.
