FEBRUARY 11, 2024 SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Dear friends,

In 1968, the crew of Apollo 8 made history by becoming the first people to travel to the moon and see that planet up close. But the most amazing picture they took was not of the moon but rather a picture of the earth. They journeyed to the moon and, almost by accident, discovered the earth.

Today we are celebrating all that we have done to rebuild our church. There were many things that we eagerly anticipated being completed, but the thing that we didn't anticipate, when we took down all the tress, was how great our church would look setting tall and strong on the hill. More than one person has said: "Wow, when you drive up to the church it really stands out."

All that made me think of the passage from the Gospel of Matthew. "You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden." I think we can take inspiration from this. From the very beginning I have said that the easiest part was to rebuild the church. Francis of Assisi thought his work would be done when he rebuilt the little chapel called San Damiano. But what God was really asking was to "rebuild" the people so that they can be a light to the world.

As beautiful as our church is, (and it is very beautiful), the greatest gift we can give is not a building, but people who show others how to live with confidence and joy in the world. That means recognizing all the pain and suffering that is going on in so many parts of the world and living our lives in such a way that the light of our life is not determined by the darkness around us. That kind of example stands tall and true. It is noticed and gives light to all. And it is the kind of presence that is so needed in our world today.

Learning how to be a light to the world is a lifelong process. This week we begin the season of Lent a time for us to renew our commitment to being a light to the world. Lent, with all of its customs of prayer, fasting and works of charity are ways of making that commitment real in our lives.

So today, let us celebrate all that we have been able to accomplish in rebuilding our church. And then, this Wednesday, let us come together again and celebrate our commitment to live our lives in such a way that others see goodness in our acts and give praise to God. Along the way we may encounter some unexpected surprises!

Leaning into the journey of life

LENT BEGINS ON FEBRUARY 14

Ash Wednesday

February 14

Mass at 7:30 am

with distribution of Ashes

Penance Service

with distribution of Ashes

11:00 am and 7:00 pm

This year, we will be following a much older Catholic tradition of having ashes sprinkled on our heads.

STATIONS OF THE CROSS DURING LENT

One of the ancient and traditional prayers during the season of Lent is The Stations of the Cross, also known as Via Crucis—The Way of the Cross. This prayer calls us to remember Jesus' Passion Death and Resurrection and to reflect on what it means for us to "take up our cross and follow Jesus."

Each Tuesday during Lent, we will gather for Family Stations of the Cross from 6:00-6:30 at St. Joe Church. Bring the whole family to pray and reflect on Jesus' passion.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Please remember in your prayers Michael Wittgen, the brother of Jeff Wittgen who died recently. May God grant him eternal rest and may His peace be with his family and friends.

DAY OF PRAYER FOR HAITI....On Monday, February 26, join us for a day of prayer for our brothers and sisters in Haiti. That is our regular day for Eucharistic Adoration, so join us anytime from 7 am to 6:30 pm to spend some time in prayer in church. We will conclude the day with mass at 6:30 pm.

WHY GIVE UP TUFF FOR LENT?

Life, we come to understand, is not only about joy. It is about the power to endure what is not joyful as well. I remember quite clearly the day in grade school when my teacher put a large box on the corner of her desk and posters of starving children around the room. Lent was coming, she explained to us. We should give up candy and put the candy money we saved in the box for the missions. These were the poster children we should be sacrificing to save.

It was a child's catechetical exercise, yes, but it carried with it spiritual messages enough to last for a lifetime. Clearly, we were being put on notice. There were things in life, other people in life, for which each of us was responsible, however young we were and whether we had any association with them or not. There were things in life so important, it seemed, that we would need to give up some things for ourselves in order to take care of the needs of others. And it all had something to do with God.

When you're young, the act of giving something up for Lent is an epochal moment. It involves a complete re-evaluation of what it means to be human. If life is not about permanent and continual self-satisfaction, what is it about? And why? How is it that the notion of bridle the self can be as important as satisfying the self?

What becomes even clearer as the years go by is that this understanding of penance and sacrifice as part of what it means to be a spiritual person is one of the most ancient traditions in religious history. It is common to all religions; it is thousands of years old.

The ascetic is the person who sets out to subject the body to the spirit. Athletes do it to achieve physical development and somatic control. They give up food and time and physical comfort to conquer mountains and swim channels and win athletic competitions. Spiritual seekers do the same things, but they do them for a different reason. Their goal is to conquer themselves and develop their souls.

There is nothing passive about asceticism. It is the active giving of the self—physical and spiritual—in order to concentrate the soul, vise-like, on the center of life rather than on its peripherals. The ascetic knows that to become what we can become spiritually, some things—even good things, perhaps—must be forgone. It is not that good things must be forsaken; it is that they must be indulged in with balance. The Talmud says that "If a person has the opportunity to taste a new fruit and refuses to do so, he will have to account for that in the next world." The ascetic lives with the spiritual awareness that choosing between the good and the better is the discipline that makes us the best of what we set out to be. Asceticism is not about giving things up for their own sake. It is as much about achieving more life—another kind of life—as it is about giving it up.
